BRITISH AND FRENCH FORCES QUIT DAKAR; VENTURE NOW ENDED

Expedition to Senegal Made on Advice of General De Gaulle, Free French Leader, Forced to Withdraw to Prevent Major War Operation—Situation Fully Explained

LONDON, Sept. 25 (CP).—The Royal Navy and the Free French forces of Gen. Charles de Gaulle withdrew tonight from Dakar, and the British Government announced that they had given up a three-day naval and air battle for that key port of French West Africa.

The Ministry of Information, in a statement, said it never had been Britain's intention to "enter into serious warlike operations" against supporters of the Petain-Laval Government of unoccupied France and that De Gaulle himself was "most anxious that he should not be the cause of bloodshed to his fellow countrymen."

(The Petain Government at Vichy, before it heard the news, reported the fighting continued full-scale Wednesday, with its force of 6,000 staving off landing attempts.)

USED SHORE BATTERIES
The British statement said the Dakar shore batteries scored hits on British ships, that the port suffered bombardment, and that two submarines based at Dakar were sunk.

Casualties were acknowledged on both sides.

The newest of French battleships, the Richelieu, which Britain put out of action in a special expedition to Dakar last July 8, joined in the fray. Around it, still used its guns, and the British ships returned its fire.

(The Vichy Government claimed three big British warships were badly damaged, while the British navy guns and aerial bombs wrought great havoc in Dakar and inflicted heavy casualties. The battleships Barham and Resolution and the cruiser Kent were hit, Vichy said.)

WILL REVIEW BACON TRADE

Dominion May Send Delegation to United Kingdom For Study

OTTAWA, Sept. 25 (CP).—The Government has under consideration sending a party of officials headed by a Cabinet minister to Great Britain to seek closer co-operation in meeting United Kingdom needs for farm products from Canada. It was officially stated today. A decision is expected this week.

Meanwhile, the Bacon Board, which is responsible for regulating the flow of bacon to Great Britain under the bacon agreement, met in Ottawa today and began a canvass of the entire bacon situation. Hon. J. G. Taggart, chairman of the board, presided.

For several weeks negotiations have been in progress in London looking to a new bacon agreement to take the place of the existing one, which terminates October 31. Negotiations have not been completed.

FEWER NAZIS ABLE TO BREAK THROUGH LONDON DEFENCES

New Searchlight Technique Proves Effective Against Night Raiders—British Shoot Down Twenty-Eight Enemy Planes in Day of Heavy Fighting—Many Districts Bombed

LONDON, Sept. 25 (CP).—A heavy anti-aircraft barrage, combined with a new searchlight technique, forced Nazi raiders early today to adopt new tactics to reach the heart of London, in the nineteenth consecutive all-night assault on this air-besieged capital. The night raiders came after a day of heavy fighting in which twenty-six enemy aircraft were destroyed. Of this number at least eighteen were bombers. Four British planes were lost, but the pilots of three saved themselves.

PLANE LOST IN LAKE ONTARIO

Aircraft Seen to Land in Rough Water but Identity Not Known

PORT DALHOUSIE, Ont., Sept. 25 (CP).—An unidentified airplane was believed to have sunk in Lake Ontario tonight three miles off Port Dalhousie. It was not known how many persons were in the plane.

Lighthouse Keeper Ed Rooney said he saw the plane shortly before midnight. It appeared to be in distress and landed on the rough water. Flares were sent up and a red light was seen burning on the machine.

Nearby cottagers heard the plane overhead as it started over Lake Ontario and said it looped in the air before landing on the water. Police were notified and Chauncey Thomas, a fisherman set out for the spot.

Meanwhile, as the flares died down, a United States coast guard cutter put out from Youngstown, N.Y., and swept its searchlight about the lake. Fishermen joined in the search but no trace of the plane could be found.

It was first believed to be a Toronto-Buffalo transport plane, but a check of airports showed that no plane was missing.

MAPLE LEAF CLUB STRUCK BY BOMBS

No Casualties When Second Red Cross Soldiers' Centre in London Hit

TORONTO, Sept. 25 (CP).—Headquarters of the Canadian Red Cross Society received a cable tonight stating that a second Maple Leaf Club in London, operated by the society, was battered today by German bombs. There were no casualties.

Last week the first Maple Leaf Club, established by the Canadian Red Cross for Canadian soldiers on leave, was ruined by bombs.

The service provided by the club will be carried on in other quarters and there will be no let-up in the work.

EARL OF ATHLONE RECEIVES DEGREE

QUEBEC, Sept. 25 (CP).—Laval University today conferred the honorary degree of doctor of laws on the Earl of Athlone.

Rodrigue Cardinal Villeneuve, chancellor of the old French-Canadian institution, presented the award at a special convocation attended by hundreds of students and faculty members.

AGE LIMIT RAISED

MELBOURNE, Sept. 25 (CP).—The age limit for enlistment as pilots in the Royal Australian Air Force today was raised from twenty-eight to thirty-one. The call-up rate for pilots has been increased 25 per cent.

Attack on Greek Cruiser

Pictures have just reached this country of the attack on the Greek cruiser Helle last August 15, while Tenos islanders were celebrating the feast of the Assumption of the Virgin Mary. This picture shows the explosion of a torpedo against the quayside of the island. The torpedo was aimed at the Helle, seen in the background; later the Helle was sunk by another torpedo from the unknown submarine.

From Europe Day by Day

THE TIMES, London
News and Comment on International Events selected from The Times daily and published in The Daily Colonist by special arrangement with The Vancouver Daily Province

(Copyright, 1940, by Southern Co.)
LONDON, Sept. 25 (By Cable).—Royal Air Force bombers have sown havoc over Berlin, dropping bombs there at intervals of four and a half minutes for several hours.

Railway stations and power stations especially suffered and big fires were started, gas works were left burning furiously.

Simultaneously with the bombing of Berlin, Hamburg shipyards were again battered, the Kiel Canal bombed and many airdromes and seaplane bases also hit. As well as Hitler's invasion bases at Boulogne and elsewhere were attacked.

The Nazis on their side continued their raids during the night on central London, where another historic church was hit and hospitals, newspaper bureaux, shops and homes were damaged.

Dealing with the campaign in Libya and Egypt, The Times says it would be unwise to assume that the Italians will not press their attack on Egypt. Their aim, in which they will doubtless be aided by the German air force, will be nothing less than the isolation and destruction of British naval and military forces in the Mediterranean, Egypt and Palestine.

There will at the same time be a threat to Khartoum from Eritrea by way of Kassala, and also an attempt to penetrate more deeply into Kenya. On all these fronts the Italians have a superiority in numbers on the ground and in the air, though their armies in Ethiopia and Somaliland must already be feeling the shortage of petrol.

We are face to face in Africa with a menace, says The Times, "almost as vital as the threat of invasion of our own country and possibly easier to translate into action. Some observers indeed believe that for the moment the invasion of Britain becomes second in the dictators' plans and preparations for it at least have the partial object of preventing us diverting further resources to the defence of Egypt."

In Turkey, says The Times' Ankara correspondent, the view is taken that Hitler will help the Italians by going for Gibraltar and afterwards sending troops to French North Africa.

The reward to Spain for entering the war against Britain would be a slice of still unconquered French African territory.

The Turks think the invasion of Britain is now improbable.

MASS ATTACKS ON GIBRALTAR

Hundred Planes Drop 300 Bombs—Little Military Damage Done

GIBRALTAR, Sept. 25 (CP-Reuters).—The command of this mighty British fortress announced today that "large numbers" of French planes bombed the Rock on Wednesday for two and one-half hours. More than 300 bombs were dropped by about 100 planes, the authorities stated.

It was the second successive heavy assault by the French-type planes on this famous outpost of their erstwhile allies. It could not be determined whether the planes were piloted by Frenchmen, Germans or Italians.

The announcement said: "A large proportion of bombs dropped into the sea and on barren parts of the Rock, but many fell on buildings, roads and old defences."

"Considerable damage was done to private property and Government properties, but little damage to military works and personnel."

"One small ship was hit and subsequently sank in the harbor. There were a number of casualties, including some fatal ones."

"The fortress' anti-aircraft guns were very effective throughout. The gunners stood up to the heavy bombing magnificently."

"Several enemy aircraft were shot down, three for certain and two more possibly."

FRENCH TROOPS IN RETIREMENT

Superior Japanese Force Encircles Indo-China Defenders

HANOI, French Indo-China, Sept. 25 (AP).—A French communiqué said tonight that French troops had withdrawn today from Langson, eighty miles northwest of Hanoi and fifteen miles within the Indo-China border, after having been encircled by "vastly superior Japanese forces."

Both sides said the French suffered "considerable" losses during the Langson fighting.

Informed unofficial quarters asserted that a combination of diplomatic, political and military factors had caused the French to fall back from the border after vigorous resistance to the initial Japanese move of Sunday night.

PASSIVE ADVANCE
A military observer said the Japanese were able to continue what Tokyo had termed a "passive advance" because they were taking advantage of the fact that the Frenchmen were obeying orders to withhold their fire unless fired upon.

He added that Japanese motorized units of infantry had turned the Langson position without drawing the defenders' fire.

One French Air Force officer was reported killed today when Japanese pursuit planes attacked and forced down his observation ship thirty miles within the French border.

Anniversary Observed at Border Point

BLAINE, Wash., Sept. 25 (CP).—More than 10,000 children from the United States and Canada and other thousands of adults gathered at the Peace Arch today, where they joined in ceremonies commemorating the two hundred years' peace between the two countries.

Special trains from Vancouver and Seattle brought the Canadians here, while scores of buses transported Americans to the border.

BOMBS SHAKE GERMAN CAPITAL: BERLINERS CROUCH IN CELLARS

Nazi City Has Five-and-a-Half-Hour Night Raid—British Pilots Report Direct Hits on Important Works—Was Third Consecutive Night of Attack—Suburbs Under Fire

Assaults on German-Held Ports Continue for Hours

BERLIN, Sept. 26 (AP).—British bombers lashed at Berlin's outskirts last night and today for five hours in the city's longest air raid, which started before bedtime and forced many a home-bound Berliner to spend the night in a chilly cellar.

Most of the raiders appeared to stay over Berlin's industrial suburbs, but two waves of them passed over the city, and Central Berlin anti-aircraft cannon blazed away on both occasions.

No bombs were heard bursting in the centre of the city, and from that point no fires could be seen.

ADMIT DWELLINGS DESTROYED
A Nazi communiqué Thursday morning stated: "In the past night British planes again visited the capital and dropped bombs aimlessly at several places on residential sections and outlying districts."

"A number of dwellings and garden houses were destroyed and others damaged."

Anti-aircraft cannon in Berlin's central district went into action twice.

The long raid came so early that it caught many persons on the way home and they had to spend the night in strange air raid shelters.

SIX KILLED IN COLLISION

Victims of Traffic Accident in Ontario All Members of C.A.S.F.

NEWMARKET, Ont., Sept. 26 (CP).—Six members of the Canadian Active Service Force were killed early today when the automobile in which they were riding crashed into the rear of a truck on the highway near this town, twenty-eight miles north of Toronto. The truck was stopped at a signal light.

Four of those killed were members of the No. 1 Infantry Training Company at Camp Borden, and the other two were members of the Essex Scottish Regiment, which was mobilized at Windsor, Ont. The only other occupant of the car, also a member of the Essex Scottish, suffered undetermined injuries. The truck driver escaped with a shaking up.

ALL NIGHT IN SHELTERS

LONDON, Sept. 26 (CP).—Royal Air Force long-distance bombers struck Berlin for the third consecutive night and gave the Reich capital early today its longest raid of the war. It lasted for more than five hours and was the first time that Berliners had a taste of night-long crouching in raid shelters such as Londoners have now experienced for nineteen consecutive nights.

The R.A.F. attack followed twenty-four hours of widespread activity along an ever-widening aerial battle line that included the bombing of German-held Calais and Le Havre for almost seven hours during Tuesday night and Wednesday morning.

The Calais attack in the far-ranging operations of the bombers was but one phase of a continued general assault upon Nazi "invasion bases" from Hamburg, Germany, to Le Havre, France.

ITALIAN BASE AT TOBRUK USELESS

Battering by Aerial Bombs Makes Port in Libya Valueless to Enemy

LONDON, Sept. 25 (CP).—Persistent battering by units of the Royal Air Force and first air arm have made the important Italian sea base of Tobruk in Libya "utterly useless," according to British air authorities.

Tobruk was ideally situated to enable the Italians to bring war supplies to their troops operating inside the Egyptian base and also as a base for submarines and warships.

Accurate bombing during raids by British aircraft is reported to have made Tobruk Harbor—formerly full of Italian naval and merchant shipping—completely empty of any serviceable warship. The few merchant ships that remain afloat are bottled up.

RECORD ENROLLMENT AT U.B.C. EXPECTED

VANCOUVER, Sept. 25 (CP).—Registration at the University of British Columbia promises to set an all-time high according to figures announced by the registrar's office today.

With students still pouring in, a total of 2,367 have already enrolled. Total registration at the same time last year was 2,329, when a record mark was set.

WOMEN ACT AS PORTERS

LONDON, Sept. 25 (CP).—The Midland Railway now employs more than 250 women as porters and in other work formerly done by men, the British Broadcasting Corporation reported tonight. "Sometimes the women find the work a little hard, but none of them want to quit," it said.

LATE NEWS BULLETINS

JAPAN PUTS MORE TROOPS IN IND-CHINA
TOKYO, Sept. 26 (AP).—Domestically (Japanese news agency) reported today from French Indo-China that additional Japanese forces had been landed near Haiphong.

PLEADS WITH SPAIN TO STAY OUT OF WAR
PANAMA, Sept. 25 (AP).—Panama's National Assembly approved a resolution today urging Spain to stay clear of the war and "not allow her sons to contribute to the success of totalitarian ideology and absolutist practices of Nazi-Fascism." The resolution said the Spaniards towards Nazi-Fascism would oppose "the political ideology deeply rooted not only in Panama but in our entire continent."

GERMANY BOOSTS VALUE OF REICHSMARK
BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, Sept. 25 (AP).—Germany boosted the paper value of the reichsmark by 25 per cent today in a new clearance agreement with Yugoslavia, already hard pressed to fill German food orders because of a poor crop. A joint economic commission agreed to raise the rate on October 1 from 14.80 to 17.82 dinars to the reichsmark.

DIAMOND MERCHANTS LAND AT NEW YORK
NEW YORK, Sept. 25 (AP).—The Spanish liner Marquesa de Camillas from Bilbao docked today with 399 passengers including three Belgian diamond merchants who fled Antwerp with $338,000 worth of uncut diamonds shortly before the Germans captured the city.

OIL ENGINEERS IN ROMANIA ARRESTED
BUCHAREST, Rumania, Sept. 25 (AP).—Two British and one American engineers, employed in the Ploesti oil field of the American-owned Romane-American Company, were arrested today by Rumanian authorities. The United States Legation and company officials said they were unable immediately to ascertain the charges. This was the first action against an American.

SHIP TORPEDOED FAR OFF IRELAND

New York Radio Station Picks Up Report From British SS Corrientes

NEW YORK, Sept. 25 (AP).—MacKay Radio said tonight it had intercepted a report from the Valencia Island radio station in Ireland stating that the British steamship Corrientes had been torpedoed about 4:40 p.m. P.E.T.

It gave her position at a latitude of 53.30 north and longitude of 27.18 west, which would place her about 800 miles due west of the Irish coast.

The Corrientes, whose home port is Glasgow, is listed in Lloyd's Register of Shipping as a 6,863-ton 419-foot vessel owned by the Donaldson South American Line, Ltd. She was built in 1929.

Britain Experiments With Scheme to Halt Enemy Night Raiders

Experts of Nation Working on Problem—Some New Devices Tried Out but So Far Success Not Achieved

LONDON, Sept. 25 (P)—In laboratories and workshops scattered throughout the country, the finest scientific and mechanical brains of the nation are working on the biggest problem of the hour—how to defeat the night raider.

Technical experts already have turned out at least three new defence weapons against Goering's bombers, but the experiments go on, because a really successful counter-weapon to the night raider has not been found.

The three new weapons are deep secrets of the military authorities, but they are popularly supposed to be of a type of sky trap for planes, a shell that breaks into a spider web of steel cables to ensnare propellers of bombing planes, and a self-propelling shell that explodes with terrific force and is lethal over a wide area.

FIGHTER PLANES BEST
Whether any of these developments, or indeed any sort of missile, contains an answer to night bombers remains to be seen but there are air experts who believe the skies can be cleared of bombers only by fighting planes.

The Royal Air Force has new types of fighters coming into commission and is experimenting constantly with others, because it is admitted on all sides that neither Britain nor Germany has developed a successful night fighter. Britain's Hurricanes and Spitfires while superior in day work are almost impotent at night because of their limited range due to high rate of consumption of gasoline and general inability to intercept enemy bombers in the darkness.

The Germans have been experimenting with a searchlight mounted in front of their fighters, with a beam shining through the propeller hub, but so far it has not worked with any degree of satisfaction because of its limited power and range.

DIFFICULTIES ARE MANY
The difficulty of fast fighters operating against bombers at night lies in the inability of the pursuit plane to intercept its heavier and slower target. All planes whether fighters or bombers disclose their position by the glow of exhaust gases, but these flames are visible for only a short distance. Otherwise, unless the bomber is silhouetted against a bright sky or caught in the beam of a searchlight, the fighter pilot is practically blind.

Meanwhile, experiments are continuing on the anti-aircraft barrage, which, while it may not shoot down many bombers, breaks up their formations and forces some of them to turn back. In addition, the explosive force of the shells throws the planes around in the sky so much that accurate bombing is impossible.

prepared to run the gauntlet toward the coast.

The searchlight activity, restricted in recent raids, was extensive during the night. The beams flooded the sky, the lights operating in large groups, which, when they patterns in systematic angles so as to light up large areas. A single beam would lead the way and be used as a pivot. Other beams were thrown at angles to this beam, instead of criss-crossing, creating a fanlike effect.

LIKE SPIDERS IN WEB
In it the raiders looked like spiders in a web. They traveled north to south, evidently attempting to penetrate or outflank the outer barrage.

One raider over the southern outskirts made several attempts, but no matter what direction or height he chose the shells dotted the sky around him and in the end he sheered away.

Another raider dropped a stick of bombs in the West London which missed an apartment block, but broke some windows. Several shops were damaged in a North-western London suburb when a bomb crashed in a main street, but there were no casualties. Bombs also fell in South-west London.

OTHER DISTRICTS RAIDED
They were dropped also in eight towns of Southeast England. Raiders were active also in Wales, North-west England and the Midlands.

One incendiary bomb landed in a bedroom. The aroused householder scattered throughout the country, the finest scientific and mechanical brains of the nation are working on the biggest problem of the hour—how to defeat the night raider.

REFUSES TO SEAT UNIONS

Canadian Trades Congress Has Stormy Debate Over Seating Delegates

VANCOUVER, Sept. 25 (P)—The ranks of the fifty-sixth annual convention of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada split for the first time in a stormy session today as the congress voted to refuse seats to three Vancouver unionists who have no standing in the Vancouver, New Westminster and District Trades and Labor Council.

After an hour's stormy debate, the congress voted by a standing vote of 139 to 55 to uphold the recommendation of its credentials committee to refuse seats to the three—P. C. Munro, of the Amalgamated Association of Electrical and Electronic Workers, and two Messerschmitts were based in one air battle to the southwest, where two daylight raids were made on Bristol.

Bristol was attacked by planes crossing the Dorset coast. Bombs dropped near the coast and in the Bristol district, causing some damage and killing and injuring a number of persons.

There also was some minor enemy activity in Southeast England, but reports indicated that little damage and few casualties were caused.

IN SOUTHWEST ENGLAND
Between twenty and thirty Nazi aircraft, including one formation of ten, raided a coast town in South-west England yesterday afternoon. Bombs were dropped, but all missed their objective. It was the fourth raid of the day there.

A number of bombs which dropped in the working-class district of one town destroyed about half a dozen houses in one street, while a number of buildings in a neighboring street were damaged. Six persons were injured.

Summing up the heavy action Wednesday, the Air Ministry said really large bomber formations had appeared over England for the first time since the Luftwaffe's defeat of September 15—the day when 185 German raiders were shot down—and added that again this time a high proportion of bombers was destroyed.

During the day the great struggle spread out over a long and irregular battle line extending from London to the French and Belgian coasts.

SIX TENDER ON WIRE CONTRACT
Province Opens Bids on Rewiring of Rossland Courthouse

Six tenders, ranging between $1,827 and $3,417, were opened by the Provincial Department of Public Works yesterday on a call for bids for the rewiring of the Rossland Courthouse, Rossland. The bids were opened by George P. Napier, assistant chief engineer, in the absence of Hon. C. S. Leary.

The tenders were announced as follows: Modern Electric Company, Trail, $2,811; Jarvis-Prith Electric, Vancouver, $1,827; H. J. Sawyer Company, Vancouver, $1,876; Rossland Electric, Rossland, $3,417; C. C. Carter, Vancouver, $1,886; West Kootenay Power & Light Company, Ltd., $2,702.

All bids were referred for analysis and report.

board does not know whether to advise the farmers to increase or reduce hog production.

The uncertainty as to bacon review has come from the Food Ministry as to other farm commodities which Canada may be asked to supply in unprecedented volume is the chief reason for the Government considering a mission to London to get a first-hand view of the needs of the United Kingdom and offer suggestions as to how Canada can most efficiently do its part in supplying them.

PASSPORTS AND VISAS NO LONGER NECESSARY
Passengers travelling over North-west Airlines and connection lines from Vancouver to other points in Canada no longer require passport or visa according to information received from Vancouver.

New through service to Eastern Canadian points now makes it possible to leave Victoria by evening plane and reach Montreal at 8:30 o'clock the next night.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE
And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of fluid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just sits in the bowels, gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Harmful poisons enter the body, and you feel sour, weak and the world looks lousy.

A more bowel movement doesn't always get at the cause. You need something that works on the liver as well. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "top and on". Harmless and gentle, they make the bile flow freely. They do the work of colon but have no cathartic or mercury in them. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name! Doubtfully refuse anything else, too.

Churchill's Son Member of House
PRESTON, England, Sept. 25 (P)—Randolph Churchill, twenty-year-old son of the Prime Minister, was returned unopposed to the House of Commons from this constituency today to fill a seat vacated by the death of the former Conservative member. Like his father, young Churchill is a Conservative.

IN HOUSE OF DETENTION
VICHY, France, Sept. 24 (P)—Guy la Chambre, former air minister, who came back voluntarily from the United States to face charges in the "war blame" case, was transferred today to the nearby Bourassol house of detention.

Squadron Celebrates Its Fiftieth Air Victory Over German Raiders

Air Marshal Bishop, V.C., Visits Canadian Fighter Station in Time to Join Fellow-Airmen in Toast to Successes

LONDON, Sept. 25 (P)—Air Marshal W. A. Bishop, V.C., today dropped in on the bustling fighter station of the Royal Canadian Air Force Hurricane Squadron just in time to help them celebrate their fiftieth triumph over the German air force.

Two young Montreal members of the unit had glided back to the field after knocking down a big Nazi bomber and its crew of four a short time before the air marshal arrived.

Members of the unit and their commander, Squadron Leader Ernest McNab, of Regina, were grouped around a table in the hut at their dispersal point, toasting the latest success in the air. It was the afternoon tea hour, and the air hero of the last war offered a toast to "Your continued success and glory."

Then the air marshal wanted a first-hand story of the scrap fought miles over London's outskirts.

DESCRIBES ATTACK
The two Canadians were on patrol when they spotted the lone raider far below them. Diving together in an attack, each poured a number of bursts before the bomber flipped over on its back and "dived to the deck" as one of the Montrealers put it later.

Almost half of the Canadians' bag of fifty is made up of planes destroyed or probably destroyed, and the remainder are planes known to be damaged, many of them so badly it is doubtful they could have reached home.

The air marshal, who insisted his visit be kept informal, spent most of his time "talking shop" with McNab and his men. He was able to tell them that since he reached England, British air officials had told him that although the Canadian squadron has been in action only a little more than a month it already is rated "the tops."

After his visit to the R.C.A.F. Squadron, Air Marshal Bishop told The Canadian Press that "it was great seeing the boys so fit and keen for the job."

U.S. MAKES LARGE LOAN TO CHINESE
Credit of $25,000,000 Arranged—Amount to Be Liquidated by Sale of Tungsten

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25 (P)—The United States agreed today to lend China $25,000,000 through the Export-Import Bank, bringing to $70,000,000 the amount of credits extended to China in the last two years.

The new loan is to be liquidated through the sale of tungsten to the United States. Jesse Jones, Federal loan administrator, said that the Metals Reserve Company, an R.F.O. subsidiary, has agreed to buy $30,000,000 worth of tungsten from China as part of the defense programme.

(Tungsten is a heavy metallic element used in alloys and in making a hard steel for high-speed tools and electrical magnets.)

Loggers Injured By Falling Snags
Suffering slight head injuries sustained by falling timber in Up-Island logging operations, Eino Niemi and William Huk, Port Renfrew, were admitted to St. Joseph's Hospital at an early hour yesterday morning.

The men, who were brought to the hospital in a C. & C. ambulance from Sooke, where they were unloaded from the boat bringing them from Port Renfrew, will be able to leave the hospital in a few days. They are under the care of Dr. Frank Bryant.

Mrs. M. M. Bryant Dies at Nanaimo

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE
And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of fluid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just sits in the bowels, gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Harmful poisons enter the body, and you feel sour, weak and the world looks lousy.

A more bowel movement doesn't always get at the cause. You need something that works on the liver as well. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "top and on". Harmless and gentle, they make the bile flow freely. They do the work of colon but have no cathartic or mercury in them. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name! Doubtfully refuse anything else, too.

TRIBUTES PAID TO C. H. FRENCH
Sterling Qualities of Deceased Pioneer Recalled By Rev. H. A. McLeod

Rev. Hugh A. McLeod paid a glowing tribute to the "odyssey of Charles French, the strong, and tested, the friendly, brave, warm-hearted man who offered sympathy to all men, but asked none for himself," at funeral services held yesterday afternoon in First United Church for the late C. H. French, pioneer Hudson's Bay Company chief factor and fur commissioner.

Many former colleagues were among the congregation that gathered in the church auditorium, which included friends and businessmen and officials prominent in the civic life of the community.

A profusion of beautiful floral tributes were banked high behind the casket in front of the pulpit. Mrs. C. A. Goodwin sang "The Old Rugged Cross" and the congregation joined in singing the hymns, "Lead, Kindly Light" and "Abide With Me." Rev. Dr. W. G. Wilson assisted Mr. McLeod in the service.

PRODUCT OF FREEDOM
Mr. McLeod related the story of Mr. French's life, from his boyhood in Ontario to his work in the hinterlands of the North, "learning the mastery of beasts and the comradeship of man."

He mentioned the deceased's interest in every form of charitable endeavour, his ear ever open to human suffering, and said he was a product of a great freedom, a freedom that drew its source from the Gospel of Christ.

Recalling his own recent trip to the North, Mr. McLeod said that many men in the Northland had asked him if he knew Mr. French, and terming the Hudson's Bay official as "truly a company of gentlemen adventurers," he declared of the deceased that "of such was he."

Funeral services were held at the family plot in the Royal Oak Burial Park, with Sands Mortuary in charge of funeral arrangements.

Community Supports Fair at Saanich With Splendid Attendance

Reeve A. G. Lambrick, Opening Seventy-Second Annual Exhibition at Saanichton, Urges Support of Lord Mayor's Fund

PERFECT Indian Summer weather, good community spirit, a crowd of about 2,000, and half a dozen concurrently running diversions, including the special novelty attraction of saddle-horse classes which brought riders from all over the district, combined to make a very successful event of Visitors' Day at the seventy-second annual Fall Fair at Saanichton yesterday.

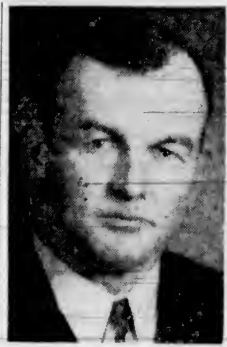

Highland dancing, school sports, tests in horsemanship, cattle judging, draught horse heavy weight pulling, and the well-arranged displays of poultry, sheep, hogs and indoor exhibits of flowers, vegetables, fruit, Indian work, jams and bottled fruits, honey, children's work, needlework, photography and eggs reflected the activities and resources of the community.

Reeve A. G. Lambrick referred to this aspect of the fair in the brief speech he made in formally opening the exhibition. Everything shown had been produced in the district within the last twelve months, and the various classes illustrated the activities of the farmers, boys and girls and Indians of the district.

Two references were made to the war. First, in an appeal to the farmers to help the Empire at this time by keeping up their livestock, and lastly in a request that everyone support as generously as possible the fund which had been opened locally to assist the Lord Mayor's fund for the relief of the air raid victims in London.

Some of the exhibitors were generously turning in their prize money to the fund, setting an example which might be emulated.

George T. Mitchell, president of the Saanich Agricultural Society, prefaced his introduction of Reeve

REEVE A. G. LAMBRICK

Lambrick by a word of greeting to patrons of the fair. Alderman B. J. Gadsden brought greetings from Victoria, and Duncan MacBride extended good wishes on behalf of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, also urging the importance of maintaining rural fairs during the war.

SCHOOL SPORTS

About 300 children from the sixteen Saanich schools competed in the sports programme, which was admirably organized under the co-operation of E. Livesey, with Archie McKinnon as starter, P. C. Routley in charge of records, and Alec Gunn, D. E. Breckenridge, A. Cullin and C. Michell as marshals. Winners of the cups were as follows:

Inter-School relay races—F. J. Baker Cup for girls under fourteen, won by Cedar Hill School; Norman W. Whitaker Challenge Cup for boys under fourteen, won by Cedar Hill School; Saanich Board of Trade Cup for schools of three rooms or over, won by Sidney School; W. O. Walker Cup for schools of one room and two rooms, won by Saanichton.

SADDLE HORSES

Saddle horses created quite a sensation as the smartly-groomed cavalcade entered up to the Fair Ground gates led by Miss Payne, a veteran horsewoman of the district, and the North Saanich contingent wearing canary-colored polo shirts. There were eleven ponies in all. Timm's Stables, Sidney, sending five or six Mrs. D. B. Carley judged. Miss A. Westinghouse, Mount Newton, took two firsts in these classes, viz., for Saanichton-owned horse not exceeding 152 hands, and in the open class for the same. W. D. Michell won the award in the Saanich-owned horse exceeding 152 hands, and Miss T. Garrard the open class for the same.

HIGHLAND DANCING

Twenty-one competitors took part in the Highland dancing, which was a very popular event, with R. E. Nimmo, Captain J. A. Dewar, R. Bryden, Pipe-Major Donald Cameron, Ian Douglas and A. G. Smith in charge, and the pipers were Pipe-Major Cameron, Andrew Pollock and John Love, Jr. (Duncan). The Adeline Grant Cup for amateur sword dance, principal trophy, was won by last year's holder, Walter Burgess, and Jean Auchincloss, Victoria, took the Chalmers Cup for Scottish reel, Courtenay. Victoria and Saanich were represented among the dancers.

CATTLE AND HORSES

Sgt. Ian Douglas, of "Thrive," Saanichton, the principal exhibitor in the Jersey cattle classes, won three of the most important trophies—the Bank of Commerce Trophy for best Jersey bull, the City of Victoria Challenge Cup, with miniature, for cow with best R.O.P. record, and the Fordham Johnson Silver Challenge Cup for best dairy herd.

The Robert Simpson Trophy for best Holstein bull went to Ralph Rendle, of Stanhope Dairy, Cadboro Bay, and the Lieutenant-Governor's Silver Challenge Cup for grand champion cow was won by Reginald Thompson, Saanichton.

The young people of the district again gave good evidence of interest in better and calf breeding. The Dewdney Silver Challenge Cup for best heifer exhibited by boy or girl went to George Doney, who also secured the award for best cow owned and shown by boy under sixteen. The Boys and Girls' Saanich Registered Jersey Heifer Club award and the Boys and Girls' Registered Calf Club award both went to Donald Goodwin.

Eleven work horses and two colts were shown in the heavy horse classes. James Turner, Royal Oak.

POULTRY

Shown under ideal conditions, poultry attracted much notice, and the judge, A. Sanbury, was very enthusiastic about the quality of the birds. A. Adams' White Leghorn rooster took the ribbon for best male bird in the show; and R. S. Anderson's White Wyandotte the ribbon for best female. Mr. Sanbury was delighted with the interest shown by the young people of the district in the Dominion Experimental Farm contest, open to schools, twelve entries being made from the North Saanich Consolidated Schools in this class. Miss Cambridge Smith's white ducks, and a handsome pair of golden pheasants and partridge Wyandottes from the Westinghouse Farm, Saanichton, attracted much attention. The last-mentioned, said Mr. Sanbury, were great favorites on the exhibition benches in England and twenty-five years ago, but are rarely seen today because they are not heavy layers, although very striking in appearance.

SHEEP AND SWINE

In the sheep section, Whitney Griffiths, Metcalchin, took the ribbon for champion ram and ewe, and also first prize for the best pen, one of his neighbors, the Woodward Darby Farm, being runner-up.

The swine section was unusually well filled, among the focal points of interest being the several litters, a 800-pound boar shown by Frank Butler, Sidney, and the big purebred boar presented by E. J. T. Woodward, of Darby Farm, to the North and South Saanich Agricultural Society. Arthur Lock, Royal Oak, led all exhibitors by taking three first prizes and the cash prize for the shop-hog and brood sow classes.

FRUIT AND VEGETABLES

D. H. Heyer, Saanichton, won the George Stewart Challenge Cup for best collection of Saanich-grown fruit.

George Little won the J. W. T. T. Cup for best collection of vegetables, with W. E. G. Russell and W. G. Burch in second and third places. Donald Wilson, Ladysmith, took the championship ribbon for best collection of potatoes.

A non-competitive entry of special interest was a rare California banana marrow shown by G. Payne, Sidney.

The Brackman-Ker Cup for most points in egg classes was won by W. J. H. Miller, Saanichton, who shared with Frank Butler the four ribbons for best sets of brown and white eggs, respectively.

HOUSEHOLD ARTS

The special prize awarded for the best two loaves of white bread in the district was won by Mrs. B. W. Willoughby, Royal Oak; Mrs. L. H. McQueen won the Brackman-Ker Cup special prize for most points in the household arts section; Mrs. R. A. Nimmo, Saanichton, the Blue Ribbon Biscuit competition prize, and Mrs. B. M. Willoughby, the B.C. Electric Co. prize for bottled fruits.

Girls of the district made a good showing in the cooking section, cash prizes for best layer cake made by children under sixteen years going to Hilda Smith and Norma Melville, and for best tea biscuit to Joan K. Smith.

North Saanich children won the three leading prizes in handicraft work. Murray Munsell, Dick Primeau, and James John, and two Mount Douglas High School girls received special awards for pictures, which they entered: Willis Reid and Elizabeth Dawson.

In the ladies' work section, Miss Ivy Hocknell, Saanichton, with three firsts and four seconds took the special prize donated by Woodward's, Ltd., Vancouver. Mrs. George Bickford being runner-up with three firsts and three seconds. South Saanich Women's Institute and Brentwood Bay Institute took first and second in the three-article classes.

FLOWER SECTION

Mrs. Charles Spink, Victoria, took the special cup for most points in the flower section, winning seven firsts and four seconds. Only one point behind her was Mrs. William Casey, Saanichton, with four firsts and nine seconds.

A great addition to the flower stand was the non-competitive display of dahlias entered by George Wardle, Bazar Bay. Colonel McMullen also sent in some fine non-competitive material for this section.

Among the special exhibits were a cushion made when she was a child, by Miss Robertson, 2229 Oak Street, and originally shown at the Saanich fair sixty years ago, and an Arab rug lent by D. H. Heyer.

Ladies of the society, under the co-operation of Mrs. R. A. Nimmo and Mrs. D. Lawson, did a brisk catering business in the prettily decorated dining-room, which was effectively decorated by Mrs. Butterfield and Mrs. Hughes. Mrs. A. G. Smith was in charge of the candy stand, and Mrs. B. M. Deacon of the outside coffee stand. Mrs. Hughes, Mrs. George T. Michell and Mrs. J. White were the reception committee.

Boy Scouts in charge of Patrol Leader Peck and James John did good work.

took the Dr. S. F. Toimie Challenge Cup for the best team of work horses shown, took first place for the best agricultural team, and won three other first prizes. His was the only competing team in the weight-pulling contest which carried the $10 cash prize given by H. C. Oldfield. Major A. D. MacDonald's heavy draught team came second, and Sidney Fox took second place in the single horse class.

POULTRY

Shown under ideal conditions, poultry attracted much notice, and the judge, A. Sanbury, was very enthusiastic about the quality of the birds. A. Adams' White Leghorn rooster took the ribbon for best male bird in the show; and R. S. Anderson's White Wyandotte the ribbon for best female. Mr. Sanbury was delighted with the interest shown by the young people of the district in the Dominion Experimental Farm contest, open to schools, twelve entries being made from the North Saanich Consolidated Schools in this class. Miss Cambridge Smith's white ducks, and a handsome pair of golden pheasants and partridge Wyandottes from the Westinghouse Farm, Saanichton, attracted much attention. The last-mentioned, said Mr. Sanbury, were great favorites on the exhibition benches in England and twenty-five years ago, but are rarely seen today because they are not heavy layers, although very striking in appearance.

SHEEP AND SWINE

In the sheep section, Whitney Griffiths, Metcalchin, took the ribbon for champion ram and ewe, and also first prize for the best pen, one of his neighbors, the Woodward Darby Farm, being runner-up.

The swine section was unusually well filled, among the focal points of interest being the several litters, a 800-pound boar shown by Frank Butler, Sidney, and the big purebred boar presented by E. J. T. Woodward, of Darby Farm, to the North and South Saanich Agricultural Society. Arthur Lock, Royal Oak, led all exhibitors by taking three first prizes and the cash prize for the shop-hog and brood sow classes.

FRUIT AND VEGETABLES

D. H. Heyer, Saanichton, won the George Stewart Challenge Cup for best collection of Saanich-grown fruit.

George Little won the J. W. T. T. Cup for best collection of vegetables, with W. E. G. Russell and W. G. Burch in second and third places. Donald Wilson, Ladysmith, took the championship ribbon for best collection of potatoes.

A non-competitive entry of special interest was a rare California banana marrow shown by G. Payne, Sidney.

The Brackman-Ker Cup for most points in egg classes was won by W. J. H. Miller, Saanichton, who shared with Frank Butler the four ribbons for best sets of brown and white eggs, respectively.

HOUSEHOLD ARTS

The special prize awarded for the best two loaves of white bread in the district was won by Mrs. B. W. Willoughby, Royal Oak; Mrs. L. H. McQueen won the Brackman-Ker Cup special prize for most points in the household arts section; Mrs. R. A. Nimmo, Saanichton, the Blue Ribbon Biscuit competition prize, and Mrs. B. M. Willoughby, the B.C. Electric Co. prize for bottled fruits.

Court of Appeal Victoriaittings

National Trust Co., Ltd. (plaintiff respondent) and Christian Community of Universal Brotherhood (defendant appellants) and the Board of Review for the Province of British Columbia established under The Farmers' Creditors' Arrangement Act, 1934, (defendant appellants).

D. N. Hossie, K.C., counsel for plaintiff; C. L. McAlpine, K.C., counsel for defendant company, and W. S. Owen, solicitor for the defendant board.

The hearing of this appeal occupied the full time of the court yesterday.

This is an appeal from the judgment of Mr. Justice Robertson, dated December 15, 1939, in favor of the respondent.

It was heard at the last sittings of the court in Vancouver, but was set over to Victoria for further argument.

The judgment of Mr. Justice Robertson declares that the appellant, Christian Community of Universal Brotherhood, is not a farmer within the meaning of the act. The appellant is an incorporated company having for its objects the carrying on of agricultural pursuits, etc.

Mr. McAlpine, on continuing his argument on behalf of the appellants, submitted, for the purpose of review, the appeal is based on two main grounds: (1) That the action in the court below was premature, and (2) the Supreme Court had no jurisdiction to decide whether or not the defendant is a farmer within the meaning of the act, as this jurisdiction lies in the County Court only.

The final disposition of this appeal rests largely on this question of jurisdiction. Both counsel submitted lengthy arguments and cited numerous authorities in support.

Mr. Hossie, counsel for respondents, submitted that, although the jurisdiction under the act was given to the County Court, the Supreme Court still has concurrent jurisdiction, as it never was expressly taken away, and that, therefore, the action is rightly laid.

The decision, which was reserved, is of major interest to the legal fraternity.

THE ROAD TO VICTORY

Mr. Winston Churchill foretold, after the capitulation of France, that the whole fury and might of the enemy would be turned on Great Britain, and this is what is happening. Because that fury and that might are being expended on the civilian population there is an agitation in some quarters that the Royal Air Force should engage, too, in the slaughter of non-combatants, instead of confining its attention to military objectives. It may be remembered, however, that when Mr. Churchill spoke of the forthcoming mercilessness of the German attack he said as well: "Let us do our duty and so bear ourselves that if the British Commonwealth and Empire lasted for a thousand years men would still say 'This was their finest hour.'"

That is what we must do. We must never be said if Great Britain emulated German methods. The Empire is at war with the mentality of ruthlessness. Upon the outcome of the battle, the Prime Minister says, "depends the survival of Christian civilization; depends British life and the continuity of our institutions and our Empire." It was Mr. Churchill, too, who defined the policy of the Royal Air Force: "This process of bombing the military industries and communications of Germany, and the air bases and storage depots from which we are attacked, which will continue upon an ever-increasing scale until the end of the war, and may in another year attain dimensions hitherto undreamed of, affords one at least of the surest, if not the shortest, of all roads to victory."

INCOME TAX INCREASES

The inability of large numbers of people to invest in Canada's second War Loan was undoubtedly due, at least in part, to the heavy increases that have been made in the income tax. The Federal Government realizes this, and it was while the late war loan was being subscribed that the Minister of Finance announced that income tax hereafter can be paid in eight monthly installments, from January to August in each year, and without the customary penalties. In other words, delinquency will not take effect until September in each year. This plan ameliorates the conditions of payment, but does not decrease the tax, and employers all over the country are being asked by officials at Ottawa to keep reminding their employees of the income tax liability as to plan savings to meet it when due.

The Calgary Herald has the following to say of the increased tax levies made necessary because of wartime needs: "In view of the tremendous increase in Federal income tax levies the tax-paying public have a right to demand that income taxation levied by provincial administrations should be lowered. These governments have no war burden to carry, and they can best contribute to Canada's war effort by reducing their expenditures to the lowest feasible point, thus leaving more tax revenue available to their senior government at Ottawa. An obvious retrenchment would appear to be in a single income tax collection, thus avoiding duplication in collection staffs. Ontario's income tax revenue is collected by Ottawa officials at the same time as the Federal revenue is garnished. This means a considerable saving to Ontario."

Ottawa realizes that the increased income tax is going to present a problem to many people, and it is engaged on a campaign of propaganda to keep the public aware of this liability. It has prepared the following table dealing with a married person, without dependents, and the claim is that this serves substantially as a guide for all persons, since the reduction for a dependent is relatively small.

PIECES OF PAPER

The so-called cards given to all those who registered last August are, of course, not cards at all but merely pieces of paper. It is conceivable that by now many of these have been lost. There have been numerous police court cases in which those charged with offences have been asked to produce their registration papers and have been unable to do so, some claiming that they have been lost. In a Toronto police court the other day one man said he had given his piece of paper as security for a loan of 25 cents. This must be the first instance on record of the fact of registration and being given a receipt for doing so providing a registrant with collateral. That a large number of these receipts are being lost, or are changing hands, is indicated by a report from Montreal that applicants for new receipts average 300 daily. One suggestion made is that the Government replace the pieces of paper with disks to identify registrants. It may well be hoped that no attention will be paid to this as it would involve an expenditure of possibly a million dollars as well as the appointment of a bureau of disks, or whatever it might be called.

So far as is known registration was for the purpose of ascertaining information about those of military age liable to be called up under conscription. To an extent this purpose has been achieved. There is no indication that, so far as the remainder of the registrants are concerned, there is any intention whatever of enlisting their services for war effort. It is likely that most of the cards that were filled out last August have already been pigeon-holed at Ottawa and forgotten. Far too much stress, therefore, is being laid on the preservation of the receipts given to registrants, and the penalties for neglect to carry them on are too great inasmuch as the receipts are perishable as is already becoming so evident. Since the records of those who registered are available at Ottawa that should be enough for the Government.

MORBID CURIOSITY

It is becoming a commonplace for German prisoners-of-war to escape from internment camps in this country. Obviously the precautions taken to insure their incarceration are insufficient. These escapees are all recaptured in time, but not until after much trouble and the expenditure of much time by the police. This could be obviated if greater vigilance were exercised in the camps; where, indeed, from all accounts, the prisoners seem to be having a good time.

There is a story told by The Star, Windsor, about one of the prisoners who escaped from an Ontario camp. On his recapture he was lodged in a cell at the police station at Bala, in the Muskoka district. There he was "lionized" by a crowd that gathered beneath the cell window. The Star says: "He was kept busy signing his autograph through the bars, and even girls selling tags in aid of the Navy League had him place his name on their arm-bands. Holiday-makers snapped photos of the prisoner. The Star alludes to the foregoing as a 'disgraceful exhibition,' and wonders 'whether some people in this country realize that we are at war.' The Journal of Ottawa, in commenting on the incident, says: 'The same crowd would have shown even greater zeal over a chap who had murdered his wife and seven children, or a desperado from our own land who had robbed a bank and led the police a merry chase through the North woods.' Neither The Star nor The Journal can suggest a remedy for this morbid curiosity, though it probably could be found in an educational system that would promote a sound and healthy interest in life, in other words, a system that would minister to minds that are diseased.

THE BEGINNINGS

It was not part of their blood,
It came to them very late
With long arrears to make good,
When the English began to hate.
They were not easily moved,
They were loath to wait
Till every count should be proved,
Ere the English began to hate.
Their voices were even and low,
Their eyes were level and straight,
There was neither sign nor show,
When the English began to hate.
It was not preached to the crowd,
It was not taught by the State,
No man spoke it aloud,
When the English began to hate.
It was not suddenly bred,
It will not swiftly abate,
Through the civil years ahead,
When Time shall count from the date
That the English began to hate.
—Rudyard Kipling.

FREEDOM

I cannot but imagine the virtuous heroes, legislators and patriots, of every age and country, are bending from their elevated seats to witness this contest, as if they were incapable, till it be brought to a favorable issue, of enjoying their eternal repose. Enjoy that repose, illustrious immortals! Your mantle fell when you ascended, and thousands, inflamed by your spirit, and impatient to tread in your steps, are ready to swear they will protect freedom in her last asylum, and never desert that cause which you sustained by your labors, and cemented with your blood—Robert Hall.

I have a boundless confidence in the English character... from this nation of merchants (as they are in derision called) I believe more heroes will spring up in the hour of danger than all the military nations of ancient and modern Europe have ever produced.—Sydney Smith (1804).

Note and Comment

By SANDHAM GRAVES

It is a nice game, chess. Many people do not seem to realize that they accept the hand-me-down verdict of those who have never really played it that chess is "slow." Chess is as fast as the minds of the people who can play it, and there are few quicker minds. This column, being among the humble ranks of those with slow minds, does not play chess, but plays at chess. There is a difference. When one plays at chess one is free to marvel at the obliquity of bishops, of the wooden, ebony or ivory variety of course, incapable of proceeding anywhere in the direction they are looking, and doomed to travel at a tangent. One can admire, too, the knights' errant, forever galloping in an uncertain manner, right into the middle of other people's business. A doughty fellow is the knight. He is without fear, and no windmill is too formidable for him to charge, single-handed. When he fails, he goes down with his horse and without a murmur; nor, indeed, does he ever seem the worse for it, because he is always to be found ready-mounted for another game. It was sheer malignity that led men to name the queen in chess a queen; to endow her with a tyrannical, intriguing nature, and to leave her king helpless in the midst of a bone-headed court. In reality, her chess-board majesty is a fascinating personality, worth more than all the knights and bishops put together. Foot-loose castles, with a penchant for setting themselves up in other people's squares, can be a trial; but they are relatively simple fellows, tied to a straight and narrow path.

So far, one might think that chess was designed by men with anarchical tenets and sentiments. The pawns are mere push-abouts; placed in the most compromising positions, and exposed to every indignity. On the contrary, however, chess is a royal game, played once by kings, but now mostly by commoners. Because each and every one of the pieces seems endowed with individual character, and almost with human qualities, chess is a game of human interest. Sometimes inhuman nature, the game is infinitely variable. Time ceases to be a matter of importance, and even to slow minds the action becomes fast and furious. Look at a chess board in just the right light, and the pieces seem to be living human beings; not kings and queens at all, but plain ordinary folks caught in the web of circumstance, and trying desperately to shape those circumstances to a more tolerable fit. Here, but for this name, a wild and adventurous Don Quixote, intent upon windmills or destruction. There, for all of her demeanor, is a patient Griselda about to lay the whole board by the heels. Here is the smoothy, in person; looking north but about to go south. There is a quiet, but dangerous fellow, one over whom two knifings must keep special watch. And so it goes; all very human pieces, with qualities, inter-dependencies and limitations, all under the rules of the game. Fortunately for man when he learns that life is only a slightly larger chess board, with different names for its pieces, but still bound by the rules of the game. It has been the attempt to throw away rules that has brought for man such a hell as this. Man puts up with law, civilization, Man without law makes——but that is too difficult. It might pay to remember, sometimes, that when the larger game is played out, that it is not man who puts the pieces back in the boxes, but they then right side up or upside down.

CONSERVATIVES WILL CONVE

Annual Meeting of Provincial Association to Be Held at Penticton

With the annual meeting of the Provincial Conservative Association to be held at Penticton on October 19, Victoria Conservatives are considering arrangements this week for a delegation representing the Greater Victoria area. The exact composition of the delegation has not yet been arranged.

Through enlistment with the colors and for other reasons, local members on the provincial executive of the party have been curtailed in number, while the Victoria association itself is still in process of reorganization. Oak Bay and other associations are expected to send their customary quota of delegates, but special arrangements may have to be made with respect to delegates from the city.

Russell Waker recently appointed provincial organizer of the party, is expected in the city early next month to meet local officials of the party, it was learned.

The Observation Car

By THE EDITORIAL STAFF

Who's Got It

The local blue-clad stalwarts were a bunch of puzzled little lads the other day. Round about the witching hour a phone call from a frenzied citizen advised the desk of the loss of the citizen's brand-new truck. The description was duly noted, and in the hands of one of the truest and bluest, was heading down the alley toward the provi car, when the trustee stopped and rubbed his eyes. Nonchalantly he turned and strolled back into the office and reported the missing vehicle in front of the station, all parked nicely and locked for the night. Nor had he been imbibing aught than water, for the truck was indeed there. The owner was in the process of being brought to the station in the provi-buggy, and the offending truck was ignored for no longer than two minutes by a detail-seeking minion, when the happy trucker arrived at the station. "Where was the truck, thank you?" The local constabulary shuffled shamefacedly, and avoided the owner's stricken gaze. For again the vehicle was gone! But all turned out well, for when the officer brought the distraught owner home again, there was the missing truck sitting calmly in front of his house. The proud proprietor crooned happily over the bonnet of the "lucky lorry," and peered anxiously for scratches on its immaculate surface. Poppa explained all. It seems Poppa wanted a ride in the new truck. So Poppa just up and takes a ride.—H.E.M.

Blind Question

From a correspondent: "Why do persons with Venetian blinds never pull them up? Is it to keep the rooms dark, or to let the neighbors see that in their new beauty? The last time I closed mine was in London to reinforce dark coverings for a blacked-out friend. Venetian blinds are also drawn when someone has died. Seeing so many down here seems to look the reverse of cheerful." Well-made Venetian blinds let in plenty of light with the slats at right angles to the windows. They also help to preserve privacy. They will last longer if they are not hoisted up and down daily. From another reader: "I walk abroad with my little girl and am greeted by an old friend, who exclaims, 'Oh, isn't she nice.' Hall an hour later another acquaintance just as positively grins. She is exactly like her mother!" Which probably means that no two persons see the same thing alike.

Out of the Mail Bag

The City Council should be paid a bonus by the manufacturers for their thoughtful act in sprinkling the roads with those deadly little sharp angular pieces of rock which sound like harsh sandpaper on tires as a car turns a corner. On the solid tires of a friend's vehicle the surface is pitted and the life of the tires materially shortened.—G.B.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily Colonist of September 26, 1890)

The Old Beaver—Story has it that negotiations are proceeding with a view to the purchase or lease of the steamer Beaver by Vancouver speculators, whose object is to refit her as she formerly was and exhibit her along the Coast, she being the first steamer on the Pacific, having come round Cape Horn as early as 1803. She ought to be an interesting relic and her exhibitions ought to pay. It is not yet known whether existing proposals will eventuate, but if contemplated arrangements be carried into effect there will, it is said, ere long be a new old Beaver afloat.

Michaelmas Fair—This is a season of the year which all people hail with the British Isles with great satisfaction. It is the occasion upon which various descriptions of Michaelmas fairs are introduced into the household. Among these Michaelmas fairs are probably referred, for the present is the commencement of the season. Among others who have provided for the occasion are Messrs. King, Dyer & Co.

Royal Jubilee Hospital

It is reported that the arrangements have been almost completed for the taking over by the Royal Jubilee Hospital of the "Salon de Sainte Françoise," on Collinson Street. It is inquired when the management of the hospital will deal with the question of appointing visiting surgeons and physicians. It was expected by members of the profession and others that as soon as Dr. Richardson was appointed resident physician, the medical staff would have been completed.

paces at Macdonald Park under the watchful eyes of Coach George Deacon and his chief lieutenant, Jimmy Smith. Close to thirty lads are turning out for the training sessions, including several of last year's star performers in the junior circuit

SAVED FROM STARVATION

Rev. John Antle Tells of His Only Fear on Long Ocean Voyage

Fear of starvation at sea, with only one day's scanty rations left for himself and his one-man crew, with no port within hundreds of miles, and with head winds frustrating his efforts to beat northward—that was the only fear that Rev. John Antle knew in all the thirteen months of his voyage from England to Victoria in his little forty-foot yawl Reverie.

So he told an audience in the Memorial Hall last night, recounting a few of his experiences on one of the hardest voyages a wind-ship can undertake, the long beat up the Pacific Coast from the Canal Zone. The seventy-four-year-old veteran of British Columbia waters and deep-sea crossings disclaimed fear of the sea itself, because it was something known and understood, and freely confessed to constant alarm and anxiety ashore, among city traffic.

He admitted having known real fear when, after a week of hunger on the shortest of rations, battling against head winds on the Southern California coast, he and Tony, his Portuguese mate, found themselves with only a mouthful of food each for the next day.

PROVIDENTIAL AID

But when hope seemed lost, Providence stepped in, and that evening he saw a light marking in behind an island on the coast. Though the chart showed no port there, he followed the light in behind the island, and found a San Diego tuna fisherman coming to anchor. The kindly skipper of the fishing boat replenished their empty larder, and enabled them to continue a voyage that for long and weary weeks had been beset by hardships and discouragement.

The generosity of the fisherman was but one of several instances related by Mr. Antle of kindness and help found in unexpected places. In contrast to the harshness of officialdom in some ports, where the authorities seemed determined to extract the last dime from the little ship's modest and at times almost exhausted exchequer.

From port to port, with many touches of delightful humor, Skipper Antle carried his audience along with him on the voyage back to his British Columbia home—a voyage undertaken not as a stunt, but because having been an active man all his life, he was unwilling to end his days in inactivity after his retirement from the Columbia Coast Mission superintendency four or five years ago.

CAN ASK NO MORE

It was a voyage brought about when, in 1939, he "swapped" twenty acres of land, a house in disrepair, and a launch in which he then lived for an unseen yacht in England. The little craft which he sailed into Victoria harbor last week.

"Now I have my boat and can go where I please, and on my pension I can eat three meals a day. What more can any man want?" the veteran voyager concluded.

Bishop Sexton introduced Mr. Antle to the meeting, held under the auspices of St. John's Church Women's Auxiliary, as a man who, in founding the Columbia Coast Mission, had begun a monumental work, despite the greatest discouragement and difficulties, and the harshest criticism, a mission that was now recognized as a priceless boon.

St. Joseph's Senior L.A. Raises $125

The gratifying sum of $125 was raised by the Ladies' Auxiliary to St. Joseph's Hospital at the enjoyable tea held yesterday afternoon in the home of Mrs. John Hart, 1801 Fairfield Road. A corsage bouquet of roses, the gift of the Ladies' Auxiliary, was worn by Mrs. Hart, who was assisted in receiving the guests by the president, Mrs. Llewellyn Jones, who extended a welcome to the large number of members and their friends, and representatives of many organizations.

Chrysanthemums, zinnias, asters and other autumn flowers were arranged with charming effect in the reception rooms, and the tea table held as its centerpiece a mixture of flowers in a white glass bowl, and at each end of the table were silver candelabra with white tapers. Presiding over the tea and coffee urns were Mrs. R. W. Mayhew, Mrs. Reed Paige Clark, Mrs. F. J. Sehl, past president, and Mrs. F. I. Doherty, vice-president. Helping with the serving were Mrs. W. J. Holman, Mrs. R. N. Dickinson, Mrs. P. Criddle, Mrs. Burnley Reid, Mrs. W. Brady and Mrs. F. M. Bryant. In the absence of Mrs. Blair Reid, Mrs. Anthony Greet, the secretary, assisted Mrs. J. S. Atkins with the receipt of custom.

MUSICAL PROGRAMME
Adding much pleasure to the afternoon was the musical programme in which solos were sung by Mrs. T. H. Johns and Mrs. F. G. Aldous, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. C. C. Wain; violin selections by Miss Julia Kent-Jones, accompanied by Miss Doreen Briggs who was also heard in pianoforte solos, and pianoforte solos by Mrs. Bullinckx. The artists received corsage bouquets of carnations.

Mrs. Alex. McDermott had on display a beautiful doll, a replica of Sonja Henie, with a complete wardrobe, made by herself, and which she has donated to the bazaar to be held shortly by the auxiliary.

Weddings

CLOGGIE-MYRELA

First-Union Church was beautifully decorated by Mrs. A. H. Cox for the marriage of Violet, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Myre, 432 Government Street, and William T. Cloggie, S.P.O., H.M.C.S. Resit-gouche, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cloggie, 3438 Twelfth Avenue West, Vancouver, which took place last evening at 8 o'clock. Rev. Hugh A. McLeod conducted the ceremony. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a frock of white satin and lace, with an Elizabethan collar and long train, and her veil extended from a halo of orange blossoms to the end of the train. A full shower bouquet of pink roses and white carnations was carried by the bride.

Mrs. Henry Allan, wearing a frock of peach taffeta, was matron of honor, and the bridesmaids were Miss Mickey Lawson, in pale mauve taffeta, and Miss Dorothy Harper, in pale green. All three wore sheer-hedged hats to match their frocks, while gloves, and carried Colonial posies of blending flowers. Leading Stoker James Boyd, R.C.N., was best man, and the ushers were Leading Seaman Robert Dewhurst and Leading Stoker Kenneth Campbell, both of the R.C.N.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where the guests were welcomed by Mrs. Myre, in a black and white gown with a black velvet hat, and a corsage bouquet of violets and pink roses, and Mrs. Cloggie, in Pilot blue crepe, with accessories en suite, and a corsage bouquet of rust-shaded roses. Four white tapers in silver holders illuminated the supper table, which was adorned with vases of pink carnations and centred with the bride's cake, which was surrounded at the base with pale pink lace.

For a honeymoon trip to Vancouver and Edmonton, the bride left in a gown of "soldier" blue crepe with a fitted black coat, a black hat, white kid gloves and shoes, and a corsage bouquet of gardenias. The bridegroom will return to active service on their return, and the bride will reside at the family home. Guests at the wedding included the bridegroom's parents, and his sister, Miss Elsie Cloggie, Vancouver; the bride's brothers, John and Frank Myre, who have been with the R.C.A.F. in Toronto, and Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Walker, Jordan River, B.C.

CRAIG-BARON

Autumn flowers and foliage were attractively arranged in St. Alban's Church for the marriage of Ella, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Baron, 722 Field Street, and Mr. Kenneth M. Craig, only son of Mr. and Mrs. N. Craig, 766 Kings Road, which was solemnized by Rev. O. L. Jull at 8 o'clock last evening. The organist was in attendance.

The bride was given away by her father, wearing a small red velvet ingate gown with dark brown accessories and a corsage bouquet of cream Talsman roses. The bridegroom's sister, Miss Alice Craig, was bridesmaid, wearing a navy blue sheer dress with a matching hat and a corsage bouquet of pink roses. Mr. Stanley McLaren was best man and Mr. Douglas Hill-Tout, usher.

A largely-attended reception was held in the church hall, during which the bride and groom stood before a white trellised arch decorated with Autumn-hued flowers. The flower-decked buffet supper table was lighted with white tapers in silver candelabra and centred with the wedding cake. Mrs. Baron welcomed the guests in a "heavenly" blue crepe dress, assisted by Mrs. Craig in a wine ensemble. They both wore black accessories and corsage bouquets of pink carnations.

Mr. and Mrs. Craig will return to Victoria to live after a honeymoon in Vancouver, for which the bride left in a cocoa brown coat trimmed with brown fur over her wedding ensemble.

HARRISON-BELL

Rev. Hugh A. McLeod officiated at the wedding of Violet Kathleen, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Bell, 2407 Cook Street, and Mr. Eric J. Harrison, only son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Harrison, 1214 Carleton Street, Esquimalt.

The bride was given away by her father, and wore an informal gown of Royal blue chiffon velvet with matching accessories and a corsage bouquet of pink roses and gardenias. Miss Dorothy Bell attended her sister in a rust crepe frock with brown accessories and a corsage bouquet of Talsman roses and violets. Mr. James Moskop was best man.

The ceremony was conducted in the vestry of First-Union Church in the presence of relatives only, and afterwards a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where a few additional guests were welcomed. Autumn flowers were arranged in the rooms, and during the reception the bride and groom stood between baskets of yellow and bronze chrysanthemums. A three-tiered cake stood in the centre of the supper table, which was decorated with vases of yellow roses. Mrs. Bell was gowned in Queen's blue crepe and Mrs. Harrison in powder blue, and both wore corsage bouquets of pink carnations.

After a honeymoon in Vancouver, for which the bride left in a beige fur-trimmed coat over her wedding dress, Mr. and Mrs. Harrison will make their home in Esquimalt.

ADAMS-AARONSON

The marriage of Elinor Rose, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bert H. Aaronson, Meares Street, and Mr. Henry George Adams, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Adams, Haultain Street, was solemnized by Rev. T. R. Lancaster in Christ Church Cathedral at 8:30 o'clock last evening, and Mr. Stanley Bulley presided at the organ.

The charming bride was given away by her father, and wore a floor-length gown of white net over taffeta, and a frilled bolero with short sleeves and lace mittens. Her finger-tip veil of finest net was caught into a coronet of net embroidered with seed pearls, and she carried an all-pink shower bouquet of roses, carnations and heather.

Miss Beatrice Wall, Portland, was bridesmaid, in a lovely frock of powder blue French organza, with a full skirt having patch pockets embroidered with braid, and a matching organza jacket, with braided-embroidered lapels. Her semi-flowered hat was in shades of blue, and she carried a sheaf of pink gladioli and blue baby Michaelmas daisies. Mr. James Pattullo was best man and the ushers were Mr. Gordon Adams, brother of the bride, and Mr. George Simmons, cousin of the bridegroom.

Standards of pink gladioli and Michaelmas daisies made a background for the service, and bows of white tulle marked the guest pews. Following a small reception, the bride and groom left by motor for Up-Island, en route via Nanaimo for the Mainland.

Mr. and Mrs. Adams will take up residence in their new home, 2650 Belmont Avenue. The bride drove away in a smart chocolate brown outfit with a "promenade" green topcoat and a corsage bouquet of Talsman roses and swainsons.

KENNEDY-PERSON

Rev. A. E. Whitehouse, D.D., officiated at the wedding of Phyllis Margaret (Peggy), only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Person, 2639 Prior Street, and Mr. James Finlay Kennedy, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Kennedy, Sooke, which took place in the presence of relatives and a few friends at the home of the bride's parents at 7:45 o'clock last evening. During the ceremony the bride couple stood beneath a mauve and white floral arch entwined with ivy, and a white bell.

The bride was given away by her father, and wore a pretty afternoon frock of navy blue sheer crepe with a flowered bodice and sash and a matching jacket, navy accessories and a corsage bouquet of pink roses and swainsons. Miss Marjorie McAlpine was bridesmaid in a smart navy blue ensemble with a corsage bouquet of pink carnations, and Mr. John Kennedy supported his brother. The supper table was covered with a lace cloth and was set beneath a canopy of pink and mauve streamers and centred with the wedding cake, which was surrounded by vases of flowers and ferns. Mrs. Person and Mrs. Kennedy were both dressed in blue and wore corsage bouquets a honeymoon in Vancouver, for which the bride left in a peacock blue coat over her wedding outfit.

Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy will return to Victoria to live.

CLOWES-MCKINNIE

The marriage took place quietly on Sunday afternoon at St. James' Anglican Church, Vancouver. Rev. Anglin Cooper officiating between Dorothy Dallas, daughter of the late Mr. H. T. McKinnie and Mrs. McKinnie, 3731 West 6th Avenue, Vancouver, and Richard Harold (Wortley) Clowes (L.A.C.), R.C.A.F., elder son of Major and Mrs. R. H. W. Clowes, 1414 Sladcona Avenue, Victoria.

Clubs Societies

Knox Y.W.A.

The monthly meeting of the Young Women's Auxiliary of Knox Presbyterian Church, was held on Tuesday evening at the home of the Misses McPhail, 2643 Forbes Street, the president, Miss Peggy McPhail, in the chair. The minister, Rev. J. Mackie Niven, took charge of the devotional part of the meeting, and four new members were welcomed to the auxiliary. It is hoped that more members will be secured before the end of the year. This being the first meeting after the holidays, activities for the ensuing year were discussed and it was arranged that next month being the auxiliary's birthday month, a "Patriotic Tea" will be held on October 22 in the church hall. The next meeting will be held on October 15 at the home of Mrs. Curtis, Canton Street, when final arrangements will be made for the tea. The meeting closed with the Muzap Benediction, after which a social half-hour was spent, some playing of musical checkers, and the hostesses served refreshments.

Women of the Moose

The next meeting of the Victoria Chapter No. 25, Women of the Moose, was held last Monday, presided over by the senior regent, Miss D. Guelpha. Mrs. E. Murcheson, war relief chairman, reported on progress of members knitting squares for quilts, and of acquiring materials to be made up into garments for refugees for the Red Cross. Punch had been made up for members of a Scottish regiment. A social time was spent, bingo being played. A paper costume contest was won by Mrs. D. Fairhurst and Mrs. M. Drummond, second, Mrs. A. Spaven and Mrs. J. Reed; winners of contest prizes, Mrs. L. Woodhouse, Mrs. W. J. Parker and Mrs. J. Murcheson; guessing contest, Mrs. D. Fairhurst. Drill practice will be held on Monday, September 30, at 7 p.m. Officers and escorts are requested to be present. At 9 p.m. an old-time dance will be held at the K. of P. Hall, Broad Street. The social evening concluded with refreshments. The next meeting will be held on Monday, October 14, at 8 p.m.

P.C.C.L. Auxiliary

At a special meeting of the auxiliary, final arrangements were made for the comfort fund dance, which will be held on October 1 at the Athletic Hall, Esquimalt. Among the novelties which will be featured at the dance is the doll, "Miss Fortune." This is quite new to Victoria and is proving quite popular. The doll of "Fortune" has been seen frequently in the local stores. Mrs. Harry Holder is general convener and Mrs. Pearson Woodburn is assisting. Tickets for the dance may be obtained from any member of the auxiliary. Mrs. David Cuthbert, who is supervising the making of the toilet bags, reports 135 bags are almost complete. Mrs. Ross reports more comforts will be ready for shipping this week.

St. Paul's Y.W.A.

The Young Women's Auxiliary of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church met in the lecture hall on Tuesday evening. Mrs. L. Broughton gave a short talk on "Lash Day" and "St. Michael's Day." The president reported that a quilt had been finished ready for donation, while three layettes had been given away. Plans were made for another quilt.

R.C.O.C. Auxiliary

The W.A. to the R.C.O.C. No. 1 Fortess Workshop will hold a meeting on October 1 in The Colonist board room at 7 p.m. A rummage sale will be held on Saturday, October 5, on Pandora Avenue. The W.A. held a social meeting recently at the home of Mrs. J. Bonnell, 1801 Beach Drive.

Britannia W.A.

The W.A. to Britannia Branch No. 7, Canadian Legion, held a cribbage social on Tuesday evening, with Mr. H. Jarvis in charge of the game. Prize winners were Mrs. H. Jarvis and Mr. J. M. Smith. Refreshments were served by Mrs. D. Ree and her staff.

Daughters of England

Lodge Primrose No. 32, Daughters of England, will hold its social meeting in the S.O.E. Hall tomorrow, following a courtly party. Donations from members for the ambulance will be received by the secretary at the meeting.

E.C.O.C. Auxiliary

The Women's Auxiliary to the Royal Canadian Ordnance Corps will meet tomorrow at 2:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. J. Nelson Gibson, 1382 Esquimalt Road. Wives and mothers of members of the corps are invited.

Presbyterian W.M.S.

The Presbyterian Society will hold in the lecture room of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Cathedral Guild

The monthly meeting of the Cathedral Sewing Circle will be held in the guild room of the Memorial Hall tomorrow at 2:30 o'clock, prior to the silver tea.

Beaver Theta Rho Club

Beaver Theta Rho Girls' Club No. 4 will hold its regular meeting tomorrow in the T.O.O.F. Hall, Douglas Street, at 7:30 p.m.

RED OF FACE

Dinner at Government House

His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor entertained the officers of the 1st Battalion, The Canadian Scottish Regiment, at dinner at Government House last night. Covers were laid for forty.

Receives Pretty Gifts

Honoring Miss Dorcas Plimley, whose marriage to Mr. Clifford J. Barlow takes place on Saturday, the Misses Mona and Joyce Ostler entertained on Tuesday evening at a miscellaneous shower at their home, 3339 Doncaster Drive. A color scheme of mauve and yellow was carried out in the decorations, the reception rooms being prettily arranged with Michaelmas daisies and yellow marguerites. Corsage bouquets of pink carnations and ferns and a Tallishan rose surrounded by apricot snapdragons, were presented to the bride-to-be and her mother, Mrs. P. W. Plimley. The gifts were attached by mauve and yellow streamers to the spokes of an umbrella set on a table. Games were enjoyed during the evening, the prize winners being Miss Dorothy Roberts, Mrs. R. Maitland and Miss Plimley. A sit-down supper was served later by the hostesses. A lace cloth over a mauve foundation covered the table, which was centred with Michaelmas daisies in a low silver bowl and lighted by tall yellow tapers in silver holders. Mrs. L. C. Ostler presided. The guests were Mesdames Percy W. Plimley, S. Lowndes, R. McGregor, P. Maitland, L. C. Ostler, Kenneth McDonald, Ray Maitland, R. Reid and Misses Lillian Barber, Betty Witmer, Dorothy Roberts, Hazel Carter and Dorothy Day.

CHURCH CANTATA SOLOISTS NAMED

Mauder's "Song of Thanksgiving" To Be Rendered by Fairfield United Choir

Soloists for Mauder's cantata, "Song of Thanksgiving," which will be rendered by the Fairfield United Church Choir on Sunday evening.

October 20, when the church will observe its twenty-eighth anniversary, have been selected. Miss Isabelle Pike, A.T.O.M., conductor of the choir, announced yesterday that Mrs. Janet Swetnam would take the soprano solo; Robert Husband, the tenor solo; and W. G. H. Firth the bass solo. The trio work will be sung by Mrs. Swetnam, Mrs. Percy C. Richards and Mr. Husband.

Miss Peggy White will be organist for the occasion, and it is expected that a piano accompanist also will be secured.

Sectional practices are now being held in preparation for the anniversary services, which will be followed on the Monday by a Women's Association banquet and lecture.

CHAPTER XXXII

Norman found Carol's hand and led her through the rain and the darkness. Laughing, he asked, "Are you still with me?" "What isn't washed away?" "Hold on..." "How do you know where you're going?" "Eyes of a cat—I can see in the dark. Don't slip..." His hand was reassuring as the lightning flashed and zigzagged. It seemed as

No reason? There was Norman's presence, his gaiety in spite of rain and lightning and thunder and physical discomfort. Always the comparison of the two men and always and forever the knowledge that she had made a great mistake. When she was old and there were no more high moments for her, she would come back to this—a dash through the rain, her wet hand in his, her laughter mingling with his. Alas! she was seeing tonight in memory, knowing that there would never be another like it.

His voice, close, came to her through the darkness after a long silence. "What have you been doing with yourself all these weeks, Carol?" Grateful for the shield of darkness, she said, "Oh, helping father with his patients and playing tennis and swimming and trying to be nice to one of Alan's clients, a blind old man. And..." and trying to make plans for my wedding. Yes, say it, say it, put it between you—Alan and your coming marriage.

"Wedding? You're going through with a wedding, a real church wedding?"

"Wouldn't you?" "Never. There's still enough of the old tribal instinct in me to want to run off with my bride. Swoop down and say, 'You're going to marry me, you know. Now! And do it!'"

Put Edwina between you, too. "Is that what you and Edwina are going to do?" She told me, Norman. She didn't say that it was a secret but I haven't told anyone. Congratulations are in order for you, too."

When the lightning came again, sharp and dazzling, lighting the inside of the car, she saw that he was looking at her queerly, a half smile going on his lips. "What congratulations, Carol?" "You—and Edwina—your marriage." "She told you?" "The day she drove me home from your house."

ting off the merry-go-round and turning over a new leaf. I suppose a lot of people have got the wrong impression of us this summer. We've been together, but we're not in love with each other. Not now, anyhow. Congratulations are not in order for you and Alan. So that's what you've been thinking—that I was going to marry Edwina."

"Of course," BFF that altered nothing, least of all the plans for a November wedding. Her face felt warm, and seeing that the rain had lessened, she lowered the window and said, "Father knows I'm out here. He'll be wondering about me. I think I'll risk it now..."

"You know, Carol, you and I won't be seeing each other again. It would begin now, the cordial good-bye..." Awfully glad to have known you, Norman... if you ever come back to Newtew, stop and see Alan and me. We'll have a house in the hills, a house we can't afford... Have dinner with us... and I'll look through the candlelight at your dear face, your smile, your frown, seeing the hand whose touch I knew, the mouth that kissed me once... Smile, Carol. Make a good job of pretending and... watch your love go.

KIPLING SOCIETY
RECEIVES THANKS

Opening Meeting Hears Acknowledgment of Knitted Articles Sent to British Navy

A letter from Sir Christopher Robinson, honorary secretary of the Central Society, London, was read at the opening meeting of the Victoria Kipling Society held on Tuesday evening in the Union Building. The letter expressed grateful thanks for the knitted articles sent from the ladies of the society to the men of H.M.S. Kipling. With the opening of the Fall meetings, the knitting circle is resuming work, and wool for knitting was distributed among the members. A message of thanks was also read from Sir Robert Holland for the good wishes extended him by the society on his recent departure for India.

Mrs. J. W. Church read the appropriate poems, "The Song of the Cities" and "England's Answer." The president, A. H. G. Cornwell, gave a resume of Kipling's South African story, "The Captive."

Empire Air Scheme Months and Months Ahead of Schedule

Air Marshal W. A. Bishop, V.C., Tells London Reporters All About Progress Being Made to Turn Out Air Crews in Canada

LONDON, Sept. 25 (CP).—While London nursed its wounds after an all-night pounding by German bombers, Air Marshal W. A. Bishop, V.C., of the Royal Canadian Air Force, brought cheering news today that the Empire air scheme is "months and months ahead of schedule in every department."

Meeting London reporters in Canada House during an air raid alarm, he predicted the scheme would be a winning factor in the air war and said it was one of the things he came here to discuss on his visit, made at request of the Air Ministry.

The man who knew death in the skies in the last war admitted that what annoyed him most in last night's raid was the rhythmic beat of the Nazi planes. That, he said, was "worse than the bangs." However, although he has been through two night raids, he has not been in a shelter—"not that I might not be in one yet," he commented.

NOT BRASS HAT

Air Marshal Bishop conversed easily with the newsmen, causing some of the Englishmen among them to comment on the "complete absence of anything resembling brass-hatdom."

The Air Marshal said the thing that had impressed him most since coming to the British front line was the way the "Old Country people are standing up to the pounding."

On his way to the conference from his hotel, he strolled down a famous shopping street which has lost hundreds of panes of plate glass. He stopped to talk to people across one shattered window.

"They were cheerily doing business as usual," he said. "It only the rest of the world could see the quiet way they are carrying on, they would realize that the Nazis will never get them down."

He compared creation of the Empire scheme with the starting of a university. It involved the training of professors and specialists in a dozen different lines.

Approaching Peaks
"My own opinion is that the result of the Empire scheme will be without question a winning factor as far as the war in the air is concerned," Air Marshal Bishop told the reporters. "There is nothing the enemy can do once we reach the peak. We are rapidly approaching that."

The tragic events of last Spring when France collapsed merely resulted in a speeding up, he said. "And we still hope for further speed."

His last inspection trip across the Canadian West had impressed him tremendously. Where only farm fields stood a few months ago, "they now have training schools that look like bustling towns."

Air Marshal Bishop reported "great number of Americans want to join up" but explained that "the preference must be given to our own boys," Americans, he said, make "beautiful pilots."

The main object of the Empire scheme is to provide air crews for the Royal Air Force, but squadrons of the Royal Canadian Air Force will continue to cross the Atlantic, he went on.

The Air Marshal expressed doubt the scheme's vast machinery will be scrapped after the war.

CLOSER TOGETHER

"I don't see how we can sit back and be complacent," he said. "The aircraft of the present day has brought the world so much closer together that our whole Empire might be considered vulnerable."

The man who is a past master in the dogfights of the last war confessed that he is "looking forward to learning a great deal about present fighter tactics."

He considered that the present generation of airmen are "much more serious than we were."

"I think we went into the war with less knowledge of what it meant," he said. "Our present crop are very serious."

TRYING TIME IN LIFEBOAT

Young Naval Officer Relates Experiences After Ship Was Torpedoed

OTTAWA, Sept. 25 (CP).—Adrift for two hours in a lifeboat with thirty-five British children and twelve seamen, none of whom spoke much English, Sub-Lieut. John William McDowell, Royal Canadian Navy, safely delivered his charges to a rescue ship and tonight is home again in Ottawa on brief leave.

Lieutenant McDowell was pushed into describing his brief life on the ocean wave by a senior officer and this is how he did it:

Well, there isn't very much to tell. There were 320 children on the boat and we were two days out. (This was the boatload of evacuee children torpedoed August 30). I was a passenger and we had been dancing and I was waiting for a drink to come up. Well, it never came up. There was quite an explosion when the torpedo hit and the chief officer asked me to take thirty-five kids in a boat and twelve men.

ALL VERY SICK
"The kids were all very sick. They were as sick as dogs and it was very rough. They said, 'Oh, Johnny' and the 'Beer Barrel Polka'."

None of the sailors could speak English for beans and they all wanted to take command, but I banged a couple of them over the head with an oar and I had a flashlight and threw that at one of them, knocking out a couple of teeth.

Only one man was killed. He was the purser and he got caught between a lifeboat and the davit when the ship rolled. You had to wait until the boat rolled in toward the side and then jump. We put two sailors in the boat and two others took the kids and handed them over. We put them on the floorboards.

"We had to keep rowing all the time in order to keep her head up, otherwise she should have broached. 'At first about a couple of hours a Norwegian boat picked us up. It was a banana boat and had those big baskets for bananas. They lowered the baskets and we dumped the kids in like sacks of potatoes. That was a cunning idea and I give them full marks for it."

SPRIG OF HEATHER
"Then we got to a port in Scotland and an old man gave me a spring of heather and said to keep it and I wouldn't get torpedoed again. I kept it and sure enough I haven't been.

"I think all the kids started out again for Canada except one, who had German measles. Everybody behaved very well on the boat. Some shouted 'Women and children first,' but there wasn't any need for that."

"Well, I guess that's about all. Oh, yes. There were quite a lot of bombs fell around a place I was studying in one time. A couple of Germans bailed out and the sailors grabbed them. The Germans weren't bad looking fellows. They just shook their heads and muttered, 'Spitfires, Spitfires.'"

German Officers Reported to Have Reached Reich

BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 25 (AP).—A usually well-informed German source said today that officers of the pocket battleship Graf Spee, who escaped with a group of fifteen a month ago from the Martin Garcia Island internment base, already are in Germany.

Four others, this source said, are in Brazil awaiting a Spanish ship, from which they plan to transfer to a German flying-boat at sea. Three more were reported to be on a Japanese ship bound for Japan.

The men were interned after they scuttled their ship off Montevideo, Uruguay, following a fight with smaller British naval units.

PRESENT TRIP WILL BE LAST

After operating on the West Coast for several months, the B.C. Coast Service Ss. Princess Norah will be withdrawn when she completes her round-trip to Port Alice on Saturday next, the Ss. Princess Maquinna to take the October 1 sailing to points on Vancouver Island's outer coast.

EXCURSION

Excursions to Victoria are still popular with Vancouver people and Prairie visitors to the Coast. On Tuesday the Ss. Princess Adelaide brought 600 excursionists in. The Adelaide arrived shortly after 1 o'clock and left on the return trip to the Mainland port at 6 p.m.

MAY SELL YACHT

Sale of the luxurious Fleischman yacht Haida is reported pending. Inspection and sea tests of the eleven-year-old cruising vessel have already been made by agents of the prospective buyer.

The Haida is 218 feet long, with a breadth of thirty feet and is powered by two Diesel engines. She was built at Kiel, Germany, at a reported cost of $250,000.

Her present owner, Max C. Fleischman, Santa Barbara, is said to be planning a new combination fishing and pleasure craft, designed by Eastern United States architects.

Haida and her owner are well known here, being frequent visitors to Canadian waters.

FRANCO-RETURN
Japanese shrimp trawlers will again operate in Mexican waters during the coming season. The fishing craft will leave Japan early in October for San Pedro. When the vessels left the Coast in June last there was some doubt as to whether they would return for the Fall season.

BRILLIANT NEW 1941 PLYMOUTH!!

NEW IN BEAUTY · LUXURY · POWER
AND CHRYSLER-ENGINEERED QUALITY FEATURES

STEPPED UP IN LUXURY AND QUALITY—BUT STILL A LOW-PRICED CAR!

GET READY FOR A THRILL—the minute you slip behind the wheel of this big, luxurious new Plymouth for 1941!

That famous Plymouth L-head engine has been stepped up from 84 to 88 horsepower—it's a "power-house" to drive... there's a new fast-stepping "get-away" gear that's a treat in traffic... Gearshifting is smooth and effortless in all gears—brakes are smooth yet positive in action... steering is easy and true. It's driving at its restful, zestful best! PLYMOUTH IS STILL A LOW-PRICED CAR—although it's the finest, most luxurious, best-performing Plymouth ever built by Chrysler.

ECONOMICAL, TOO! Chrysler Engineers give you three new features to lengthen engine life and reduce wear—New Oil Bath Aircleaners that are more efficient in trapping dust and grit... new Steel-Backed Bearings which are two to three times longer-lived... new Float-Type Oil Strainer that takes oil from the top of the oil supply.

A NEW LIGHT IN LUXURY greets you in the beautiful new 1941 Plymouth interiors. Rich upholstery... handsome instrument panels... distinctively designed hardware and trim... colourful plastics—and two-tone body colours on the Deluxe and Custom Sedans if desired.

Buck Newsome Pitches Detroit to Two Victories Over Chicago Line-Up

Credited With Double Triumph Over White Sox as Tigers Continue Mad Dash for American League Pennant—Cleveland Beats Browns—Yankees and Senators Rained Out

(By The Canadian Press)

Bucky Walters, who may be the starting star of the Detroit Tigers, went down to defeat before the Cardinals yesterday, 4-3, in the second game of a twin bill after the National League champions won the opener, 5-0.

Agafias Walters, Johnny Mize hit his forty-second home run, equalling the record for a St. Louis player established by Roger Hornsby while with the Cardinals in 1922.

Chicago Cubs climbed within one game of the first-place Pittsburgh Pirates, by sweeping a National League double-header with the Blue Jays, 2-1 and 4-4. Bill Lee outpitched Truett Sewell to win the opener in eleven innings.

Big Al Milnar pumped a hypodermic into Cleveland's lagging American League pennant hopes with a 4-2 football-weather triumph over St. Louis Browns. It was the Indian southpaw's seventeenth victory.

A two-run single by Ben Chapman, Indians' left fielder, kept the Tribe in the American League race. Pitcher Vernon Kennedy momentarily lost control in the fourth with two out. Ken Keltner dropped a single to start the uprising. Then came walks to Ray Mack, Frankie Pytlak and Milnar, scoring Keltner. Chapman's one-baser scored Mack and Pytlak.

The first St. Louis tally came in the fifth when Milnar walked Johnny Bernardino, and Swift sent him home with a double. After singling in the eighth, Don Heffner tallied on Harold Clift's long fly.

Detroit Tigers, with Louis (Buck) Newsome the man of the hour, fought to a pair of victories over Chicago White Sox and gained a full two-game stranglehold advantage over Cleveland Indians in the American League race.

The Tigers took the opener, 10-9, in ten innings, and the second game, 3-2, and Newsome, their thirty-two-year-old right-hander, scored both victories.

Newsome gained the twenty-victory mark for the third successive season in the first game after two innings of valiant relief duty. Then he went the full distance in the second contest for his twenty-first victory, more victories than he has ever before scored in his long and colorful major league career.

The Tigers, who conclude their season with the Indians in single games at Cleveland, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, need win only one of them to beat out the Tribesmen.

COAST LEAGUE

SEATTLE, Sept. 25 (CP)—Seattle's Rainiers, who climbed to the Pacific Coast championship as a light-hitting baseball crew, rapped the ball hard to the foggy recesses of the outfield tonight to beat Los Angeles, 8 to 2, in the first game of the President's Cup play-off finals.

Outfielders Bill Lawrence and Jo Jo White led the attack, while Kewpie Dick Barrett, the league's leading pitcher, held the highly-touted Angel sluggers to four hits. Lawrence, who hit for two triples and a single and White got two doubles.

Three Los Angeles pitchers were handicapped by sleeve-like support. Two of the four Angel errors figured in the scoring, as Seattle turned eleven hits into its eighth run.

Seattle's big inning was the fifth, when four runs tallied on four hits and an error. Lawrence's first triple drove in two of the runs. Julio Bonetti, the starting Angel moundsman, was yanked after the four runs scored with only one out.

The Angels went into a 2-1 lead in the fifth when Jim Collins singled, Lou Stringer tripled and Ed Clonch drove in Stringer with a sacrifice fly.

A crowd of approximately 5,000 saw the game. The teams meet tomorrow night in a double-header.

Varsity to Have Grid Squad for Coming Schedule

VANCOUVER, Sept. 25 (CP)—The University of British Columbia "Thornhill" football team this season, Jim Harner, men's athletic club president, said today.

Practice and general conditioning will begin immediately, he said, and drill sessions will be held on Sundays if necessary.

Dr. Gordon Shrum, of the university, also noted recently that all major sports, with exception of basketball, would be curtailed for duration of the war, because the campus would be used Saturday afternoons for military training.

CENTRES WILL OPEN FRIDAY

Junior High School to Be Scene of Winter Opening Tomorrow

Tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock in the Central Junior High School auditorium the official opening of the Winter schedule for the Provincial Recreation Centres will take place with Ian Elsenhardt, director of the association, and Mrs. H. Keating, chief instructor for the province, delivering the main addresses.

One feature of the inauguration will be the showing of colored movies never before presented in this city, which will demonstrate the work carried on in the various centres throughout British Columbia. Everybody is welcome to attend and a special invitation is extended to families of the army, navy and the air force.

Complete programme for the 1940-41 season follows:

Veteran Stars Are Brains of Infield Of the Tiger Club

Detroit's Inner Defence Is Oldest in the Major Leagues but They Carry Batting Punch and Plenty of Experience—Rudy York Heavily
Primed for the Series

NEW YORK, Sept. 25 (AP)—Detroit Tigers' infield is the oldest in the big leagues, a patchwork outfit that had the experts shaking their heads sadly last Spring.

Yet this strangely assorted quartette has proved the Tiger bulwark in the sensational drive for the American League flag, and it must be regarded as a better world series infield than that boasted either by Cleveland or by Cincinnati Reds, of the National League.

On first is Rudy York, slightly awkward afield but a powerhouse at bat; next to Hank Greenberg and Joe Mauer, probably the most dangerous hitters in the game with a man on base.

At second is Charlie Gehringer, veteran of long string of years was baseball's greatest keystone. At thirty-seven he still is whanging the ball better than 300, and though he has slowed down a little he fields beautifully and leads with Dick Bartell, the Tigers' thirty-three-year-old chatterbox shortstop, in an effective double-play combination.

Thirty-one-year-old Pinky Higgins is used to be, either. His legs bother him and he has dropped out of the 300 class. Yet, like Bartell and Gehringer, he has solid years of experience behind him and should prove steady in any world series crisis.

STRONG HITTER

York's savage batting power is, of course, what swings the pendulum toward the Tiger infield, for both Cleveland and Cincinnati have far better than average combinations. And Cincinnati even has a better all-around first baseman than York in first Frank McCormick, Cleveland, for its part, has baseball's finest shortstop-second base duo in Lou Boudreau and Ray Mack.

Outside of McCormick, who incidentally batted .400 against the Yankees in the 1929 series, Cincinnati's infielder is Bill Werber at third base. He's a slick fielder and a useful 275 hitter.

Billy Myers at short and Lonnie Frey at second are average fielders and make their double plays to support the club's glib pitching. Frey went to bat ten times in the last world series without getting a hit, while Myers had had a miserable season at the plate.

The two youngsters, Boudreau and Mack, came fresh out of the International League to transform a wobbly Cleveland infield into one of the game's tightest defences.

If Ernie Lombardi's lame ankle mends completely, Cincinnati will have a big bulge over either Detroit or Cleveland in the catching department. Neither Detroit's Birdie Tebbets or Cleveland's Holly Hemmley or Frankie Pytlak is quite in the same class with old "Schmoozle" as a slugger.

WAIVERS ON MCCOY

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 25 (AP)—The Record says it has learned from "an authoritative source" that the Athletics asked waivers on Benny McCoy, $65,000 second baseman, ten days ago. Manager Connie Mack said him a bonus of $45,000 to sign, and, in addition, gave him a two-year contract at $10,000 annually.

FIGHT CARD TO BE HELD

Local Troops to Meet Port Angeles Boxers in Outdoor Programme

Plenty of gloves will be tossed around Saturday afternoon at the Royal Athletic Park when members of the 1st Battalion, The Canadian Scottish Regiment, will be seen in action against strong opposition from Port Angeles. It will be the first outdoor boxing show staged here for a long time and, with no other sport engagements set for the day, a large crowd of fighting enthusiasts is expected to be at the ringside. The ring will be placed directly in front of the grandstand, which means everybody will have a good, clear view of the bouts. The first event will get under way at 3 o'clock and ten battles will be staged. Sergeant Stan James and the civic celebrations committee are co-operating in the promotion of the show.

Two feature bouts will bring together Private Wing Hay, former Alameda boxer who scored a knockout in his last engagement, and Bill Willhisen, and also Private Bobby Parker vs. B. Hopper. Both fights are scheduled for six rounds. Bud Colbert, Port Angeles, and Corporal A. Bennett will go four rounds, while all the rest of the bouts are set for three heats.

LIST OF BOUTS

Complete programme of bouts, with the Port Angeles boys first mentioned, follow:

D. Drege vs. Private W. Hutchinson.

D. Jackson vs. Private F. Barlow.

W. Willhisen vs. Private W. Hay.

B. Colbert vs. Corporal A. Bennett.

B. Hopper vs. Private R. Parker.

A. Miller vs. Private Richardson.

C. McIntyre vs. Private Druskin.

V. Wolfe vs. Private Woods.

G. Duke vs. Private Sweet.

Maslin vs. Wylie (exhibition).

Musket vs. Lutes (exhibition).

B.C. SQUAD IN VICTORY

Provincial Lacrosse Team Wins Second Game From
Ontario, 23-21

NEW WESTMINSTER, Sept. 25 (CP)—British Columbia All-Stars defeated Ontario All-Stars, 23-21, here tonight, to take a two-game lead in the best-of-five series for the Canadian junior lacrosse championship final. British Columbia won the first game Monday night at Vancouver, 16-13.

The third game will be played at Vancouver Friday night.

The teams fought on equal terms in the first quarter, each scoring six goals. Ontario moved ahead in the second, to end the half leading 12-10.

But from then on British Columbia took over the play, leading 16-14 at the end of the third and continuing to press to hold their margin through the fourth.

Ontario came from behind a 2-4 deficit in the first to even terms entering the second quarter, then slammed in five goals without a reply. Just before half time British Columbia sniped a pair of goals to cut down the visitors' lead. At one time in the second session Ontario were ahead, 12-8.

Gordon Arrell started British Columbia's scoring rally in the third quarter, a rally that sent the Coastmen into a 15-12 lead before the Ontario stickmen found the range, and the period ended, 16-14, with the Coast team on the long end.

FIVE-GOAL LEAD

The British Columbians ripped through the Ontario defence in the fourth quarter to run up a 19-14 margin in the early minutes, but the visitors came back with a powerful drive that netted six goals in a row and put them in front, 20-19. Tom White and Jack Gair each scored twice and Bobby Goldham and Red Hewitt once each in the Easterners' quick goal spurge.

The Coastmen managed to snipe three goals in a row to win back the lead and added another in the final thirty seconds with a goal by Gair, of Ontario, sandwiched in between.

White, who starred with Orilla Baby Terrers, earlier this season led the visiting marksmen with six goals. Gair scored five and assisted in another. Rex Phillips counted six for British Columbia.

ST. CATHARINES DEFEATED AGAIN

BRAMPTON, Ont., Sept. 25 (CP)—Brampton Excelsiors made a gallant bid but couldn't quite close the gap tonight as St. Catharines Athletics edged them 9-8 in the second game of the best-of-seven series for the Ontario Lacrosse Association Senior "A" championship.

Athletics, Canadian finalists last season, also won the first game in their home ground Monday. The third tilt will be played Friday at St. Catharines.

Apart from the first quarter, when the teams left the floor deadlocked at 1-1, St. Kitts always were one goal ahead. Excelsiors brought the count to 9-8 early in the final frame but were unable to produce any more goals.

Many a man who enters marriage with his eye shut tries to forget it by seeing double.

Maxie Baer and Comiskey Clash In Ring Tonight

Former King of Heavyweight Division Set for Young Irish Opponent in Jersey City This Evening—Knockout Is Predicted—Crowd of 25,000 Expected to Pay $100,000

JERSEY CITY, N.J., Sept. 25 (AP)—The experienced flat-clothing of old Maxie Baer and the youth and hitting power of Irish Pat Comiskey collide tomorrow night in the "biggest" heavyweight fight around these parts in years.

Even the betting commissioners don't know which closer to nab as favorite. Some odds-makers have installed the nineteen-year-old Irish wallop on top at 5 to 7; others just reverse the procedure.

The chances are it will be even money when they climb into the ring about 7 p.m. M.S.T., tomorrow—weather permitting—before a hoped-for crowd of 25,000. Promoter Jack Kearns, making his big league flat-clothing comeback, figures the gate may be $100,000.

This corner goes for the clown in this one. Max appears to know too many answers to the questions Pat is still asking. A year from now, the kid should be the toughest man around, but right now he has too much to learn, and Baer—any way you want about the way he can't or cannot fight—knows more than one and one about the business of smashing noses.

KNOCKOUT PREDICTED

On one point all are agreed. The fight is a clinch to end long before it goes the fifteen-round route, because both fellows pack a can of ether in their fists. Baer predicts he will knock out Comiskey in four or five rounds. Pat's telling his friends he's going to let the ex-king of the playboys go through his routine of gags and patter for a couple of rounds, then flatten him in five or six.

Afterward, Comiskey has it all figured out to take him a dozen or so fights during the Winter and be ready for Joe Louis next Summer. Baer, too, has been feeding the folks his usual chatter about "knocking off this young punk" and going on from there to a second Louis get-together. But let him aid you about that. Mrs. B. already has turned thumbs down on any more tele-a-tele with the bomber.

OUTFIELD IS ONE OF BEST

Detroit Has Batting Power
In Outer Garden—Figures Are Given

NEW YORK, Sept. 25 (AP)—The outfield should be the power plant of a baseball club and Detroit Tigers' outfield has power to spare.

The experiment that switched Hank Greenberg from first base to left field had a jolting effect on the American League. It made room for both Greenberg and First Baseman Rudy York in the "bers" line-up at the same time and sparked Detroit to the top of the circuit with the best team batting average in the major leagues. This punch is exemplified by Greenberg with a 340 batting average, forty homers and 149 runs batted in.

The difference would have been overwhelming in favor of Detroit if the Reds had not picked up Jimmy Riddle in August. He is a streaky player, but he's usually hot when the money is on the tablecloth. He batted .310 in two world series for New York Giants and has hit 308 for the Reds. In thirty-one games he hasn't made a fielding error.

His advent made it possible for Bill McKechnie to move young Mike McCormick into centre field, where he has been playing steadily if not spectacularly well and batting .290. The veteran Al Goodman, with a .255 average, will be in right again.

The defence kingpin of the Detroit outfield is Barney McCoy, second only to the Yankees' Joe Di Maggio as centre fielder. He helps Greenberg cover a lot of territory and supports him at the plate with a .335 batting average.

VETERAN FIELDER

In right field, Detroit has the veteran Irvin (Pete) Fox, who batted .385 in the 1935 world series and has been hitting .292 this season. He stands up under expectation better than Goodman or Beau Bell, right fielder for the Indians, and batting .283.

Cleveland has a better-than-average centre fielder in little Roy Weatherly, who covers everything in sight and has been batting .206, and a versatile, if eccentric, performer in Ben Chapman, currently stationed in left field and batting .285.

Harry Craft, of the Reds, is one of the best defensive centre fielders in the National League and a regular last year and most of this. He has played in 109 games without an error. He is hitting .239.

Bruce Campbell has been used in 100 games by the Tigers and hit .287. He is Detroit's No. 1 left-handed pinch-hitter.

Cleveland's chief outfield reserve is Jeff Heath, native of Port William, Ont., who hit .343 in 1938 and was counted upon for regular left field service this season until he slumped to a .223 average.

MONTREAL, Sept. 25 (C.P.)—Cavie Percy Howard, who died in Vancouver Monday, was a member of Montreal Victorias for many years, playing with Frank Patrick and other hockey greats in 1904.

He was also a noted canoeist. He teamed with Fred Shackle, of Lachine, to lift four world championships at the Pan-American Exposition in 1900.

Born and bred in Lachine, Howard was one of the original members of the Lachine Skating and Curling Club.

FAVORITES ARE BEATEN

Several Surprises Occur in Women's National Golf Meet in South

DEL MONTE, Cal., Sept. 25 (C.P.)—Favorites tumbled all over the Pebble Beach course in second and third rounds of the forty-fourth annual United States amateur women's golf championship today, only the defending titleholder, Betty Jameson, of San Antonio, Texas, who won the crown last year and warmed up for the present tournament by capturing the Western title two weeks ago, failed to electrify the gallery with her brand of golf, but she won both her matches.

After defeating Mary Agnes Wall of Merioneth, Mich., one up in the morning, she eliminated Mrs. Mary Moseley of Lexington, Ky., 5 and 4, in the third round.

While the Texas girl was struggling through two mediocre rounds, tactics strokes over par for the thirty-two holes she played, such favored stars as Medalist Dorothy Traung, of San Francisco; Peggy Graham of Hollywood; Nancy Hurst, of Portland, Ore.; Mrs. Frank Goodthwaite, of Fort Worth, Texas; Elizabeth Hicks of Long Beach, Cal.; and Marion Milley of Lexington, Ky., were bounced out of the running.

BEATS FAVORITES
Pebble Beach's own entry, Mary Moore, trod over her home course to send two favored opponents to the sidelines. The Stanford University coed defeated Miss Hurst, 2 and 1, and followed this upset with a one-up victory over the Texas and Southern titleholder, Mrs. Goldthwaite, in the third round.

Miss Hicks, a solid contender for the last few years, was an unexpected loser in the second round to Mrs. Wagner, 3 and 1.

Mrs. Gregg Lifer, of Los Angeles, handicapped by a sprained ankle, nevertheless ousted Kentucky's perennial challenger, Miss Miles, two up, in a reversal of predictions. In the third round, Mrs. Lifer won from Thelma Carr, Glendale, Cal.,

Howard McNamara, Old-Time National-League Performer, Is Dead

DESBORO, Ont., Sept. 25 (C.P.)—Death has ended a brother, well known in professional hockey twenty-five years ago as the "Dynamite Twins." Howard McNamara, Toronto contractor and member of a famous hockey family, dropped dead aboard his yacht here Monday night while on a fishing trip.

Howard and his brother, George, served their hockey apprenticeship on rinks around the Canadian and American "Shoo." At the age of eighteen, Howard, the younger brother, turned professional, with Berlin in the old trolley league. That was in 1907. George was twenty-two at the time. The following season Howard moved to Cobalt in the old mining country's league and thence to hockey company and George, and Howard with Montreal Shamrocks.

The "Dynamite Twins" became defense teammates in 1911-12 with Halifax Crescents, one of the four clubs left a rough and ready Maritime pro circuit.

The McNamara partnership was temporarily broken up in 1914 when George joined Eddie Livingstone, Toronto, and Howard was purchased by Canadians.

Howard was captain of the Canadians in 1916 when they captured the Stanley Cup in a post-season series against Portland Rosebuds in Montreal.

Colwood Ladies Capture Trophy
Going into the final half of the match with a four-point advantage, Colwood Golf Club captured the Dowell Cup by defeating the women members of the Uplands course on the latter today during the week by a 4 to 2 score.

How It Started
"TO SAVE ONE'S BACON"
It is an old expression and it might be said to mean generally to save one's back.

Not only generally, but literally for bacon, which, comprising the back and sides of a pig, salted and smoked, is etymologically akin to the English word "back," both stemming from the Anglo-Saxon word "baec," to turn—hence all roads meet.

An early use of the phrase, and with a modern slant, is by the late seventeenth-century English lyric and humorous poet, Matthew Prior in the lines:

"What frightens you thus, my son, says the priestly—
'You murdered,' are sorry and have confessed.
'Oh, father my sorrow will scarce save my bacon."
For 'twas not that I murdered, but that I was taken."
(Revised by The Ballad-Mongers)

Rushing into the saloon bar, the man demanded:
"Gimme a double whisky, quick before the trouble starts!"
Receiving the drink, he swallowed it quickly.
"Good! Gimme another before the trouble starts!"
The bartender poured out another and watched him drink it. Then he asked:
"What trouble, and when will it start?"
"It's due now," replied the customer, "I haven't any money!"

TWO PLAYERS HOLD BERTHS

Most of Last Year's Seattle Ice Hockey Club Will Be Missing

SEATTLE, Sept. 24 (C.P.)—With the new Seattle hockey management announcing it will retain only two members of last year's team, it appeared today many of the 1939-40 fall-enders in the Pacific Coast League may play in the Seattle City League.

Several players are working here and don't care to be sold elsewhere. The City League tossed out its A.A.U. status last winter, so will be able to use the ex-pros.

Former Seattle Manager George King already has been sold to Tulsa, of the American Association. He'll be replaced by Danny Cox, manager here two years ago.

Players who probably will be retained are Deleucan John Hynes and Winger Frank Daley. Two clubs are dickering for high-scoring Dave Downie, Hal Tabor, Glenn Vickers, Ralph Blyth, Vic Ripley and Ernie Kenney are on the block and among the City League prospects.

BARRY OFFERED COACHING BERTH
MONTREAL, Sept. 25 (C.P.)—Marty Barry-Montreal veteran of fourteen years in the National Hockey League with New York Americans, Boston Bruins, Detroit Red Wings and Montreal Canadiens, has been offered posts as coach for two teams.

Barry has been invited to coach Minneapolis Millers of the American Association, and Ottawa Senators of the Quebec Senior Hockey League. He said tonight he has not decided which offer, if any, he will accept.

Security Prices Close Lower at New York Mart

NEW YORK, Sept. 25 (AP).—Preferred shares in the common stocks far behind today, the common stocks in a row, lending stability to a market which was inclined to sell lower.

The best gainers rose as much as three points. Observers said such gains were in demand by investors who believed the present high rate of operations of the companies reported would result in accrued dividend payments.

Emergence of these shares as a rallying point occurred toward noon, after many common stock leaders had slipped almost 2 points. At the final bell The Associated Press index of sixty selected shares was off only 1/4 of a point at 45. Transactions totaled 603,960 shares, compared with 710,510 yesterday.

Non-ferrous metals were in a firm position most of the day, ending well ahead, while consumers' demands for copper, lead and zinc continued at high levels.

The aircraft, too, held their ground, some making small gains, although the session ended before the Washington announcement of the $172,000,000 airplane and engine award.

Among the rising preferred shares were General Steel Castings, Certain-Tied, Pittsburgh Steel, Allegheny and Devere & Reynolds, while the common gains included Douglas Aircraft, Kennecott, American Smelting, Phelps Dodge, Allied Chemical and Caterpillar. On the downside were U.S. Steel, Bethlehem, Harvester, Dupont, Dow Chemical and American Can.

The bond market retreated a bit further under pressure of offerings. Foreign reports that the Japanese might become more closely identified with the German-Italian Axis brought losses of 1 to nearly 3 points in bonds of all three powers. German 5-1/2s and 7s, Italian 7s and Japanese 5-1/2s and 6-1/2s were affected mostly.

United States Governments were up to 23-32 of a point on small turnover.

STOCKS EASY ON MONTREAL BOARD

MONTREAL, Sept. 25 (CP).—Light selling entered listless stock market dealings today and prices closed on the downside.

Nickel sold off a point to 38 and Noranda dipped 1-1/2 to 57. Smelter, however, attracted light buying and closed up 1-4 at 40.

Bell Telephone fell 1-1/2 points and Shawinigan and Canadian Northern Power backed small fractions.

National Steel Car retreated 1-1/4 points and Dore and Canadian Car lost fractions. Bathurst and Price Brothers gave up 1-4 each, but St. Lawrence Paper preferred gained 1-1/2.

TORONTO STOCK PRICES WEAKEN

TORONTO, Sept. 25 (CP).—Trend of prices on the stock exchange took a sharp swing downward in the early session today, and although there were some recoveries apparent in late trading the closing list was well sprinkled with losses, especially in the golds.

Gold which rallied near the close were East Mainland, Kerr Addison and Macdonald Kerr Addison, but all three showed final losses of 3 to 5 cents.

Ten-cent declines were suffered by Auror, Macassa, Pickle and Crow and Wright Hargreaves.

International Nickel, Sherritt and Noranda closed fractions, but Consolidated Snellers advanced a bit.

Pend Oreille weakened.

Home Oil was an active feature and led Western oils with a 5-cent drop to 2.03. Okalta and Prairie Royalties led 4 each.

Trading Hours to be Extended

MONTREAL, Sept. 25 (CP).—Officials of Montreal Stock Exchange and the curb market decided today as a "temporary measure" to extend their daily sessions by one hour to meet the situation caused by the extension of daylight saving time.

This will enable the Montreal markets to close at the same time as the New York Stock Exchange.

The new measure will become effective Monday, when New York will revert to Eastern standard time.

(A similar decision was reached yesterday by Toronto Stock Exchange.)

Winnipeg Grain Exchange

WINNIPEG, Sept. 25 (CP).—Winnipeg Grain Exchange will open and close one hour later when Winter hours go into effect Monday, officials announced today.

The annual change is made to conform with return of Chicago to standard time.

Winter hours will be 9:30 a.m. (CST) until 1:15 p.m. week days, and 9:30 a.m. until noon Saturdays.

Gold and Oil Stocks Advance Slightly at Vancouver Exchange

VANCOUVER, Sept. 25 (CP).—Trading was light on Vancouver Stock Exchange today. Both gold and oil stocks advanced slightly as gains outnumbered losses. Transactions totaled 19,786 shares.

Bralorne Gold at 10 1/2 climbed 3/4 cents from Tuesday's closing bid. Hedley Border slipped 2 to 45 and Premier Border was 1-1/2 at 1 5/8. Relief-Arlington at 2 1/4 and Grull Wilkins at 3 remained unchanged.

A.P. Consolidated Oil advanced 3/4 to 17 and Anaconda closed at 4 1/2. Royal Crest at 3 3/4 was 1/2 fractionally, while Home lost 5 to 2.02. Oil stocks were inactive.

Grandview was the lone trader among the base metals and eased a cent to 17.

FUTURES TRADED IN WINNIPEG PIT

WINNIPEG, Sept. 25 (CP).—October, December and May wheat futures traded during today's session on Winnipeg Grain Exchange, and some of the trades were believed to have involved export sales to the United Kingdom estimated at more than 500,000 bushels.

Closing quotations, however, remained at the minimum of 70 cents a bushel for October, 71 5/8 for December and 75 7/8 for May wheat.

Further reflection of the large export four business worked earlier in the week was seen in pit trading. The equivalent in flour of approximately 1,000,000 bushels of wheat was believed to have been involved, making one of the largest day's sales on record.

Buenos Aires prices slumped 1 7/8 cents to touch a low for the year. Chicago closed 1-8 lower to 1-1/2 cent higher.

Exporters purchased a fair amount of No. 2 Northern in the cash wheat market, but light offer-

Gold and Oil Stocks Advance Slightly at Vancouver Exchange

VANCOUVER, Sept. 25 (CP).—Trading was light on Vancouver Stock Exchange today. Both gold and oil stocks advanced slightly as gains outnumbered losses. Transactions totaled 19,786 shares.

Bralorne Gold at 10 1/2 climbed 3/4 cents from Tuesday's closing bid. Hedley Border slipped 2 to 45 and Premier Border was 1-1/2 at 1 5/8. Relief-Arlington at 2 1/4 and Grull Wilkins at 3 remained unchanged.

A.P. Consolidated Oil advanced 3/4 to 17 and Anaconda closed at 4 1/2. Royal Crest at 3 3/4 was 1/2 fractionally, while Home lost 5 to 2.02. Oil stocks were inactive.

Grandview was the lone trader among the base metals and eased a cent to 17.

FUTURES TRADED IN WINNIPEG PIT

WINNIPEG, Sept. 25 (CP).—October, December and May wheat futures traded during today's session on Winnipeg Grain Exchange, and some of the trades were believed to have involved export sales to the United Kingdom estimated at more than 500,000 bushels.

Closing quotations, however, remained at the minimum of 70 cents a bushel for October, 71 5/8 for December and 75 7/8 for May wheat.

Further reflection of the large export four business worked earlier in the week was seen in pit trading. The equivalent in flour of approximately 1,000,000 bushels of wheat was believed to have been involved, making one of the largest day's sales on record.

Buenos Aires prices slumped 1 7/8 cents to touch a low for the year. Chicago closed 1-8 lower to 1-1/2 cent higher.

Exporters purchased a fair amount of No. 2 Northern in the cash wheat market, but light offer-

Rainbow Tea Is Enjoyable

A cheque for $75 will be sent to the Red Cross by the Ladies' Auxiliary to the United Commercial Travelers as a result of the rainbow tea held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Harold Elworthy, St. Charles Street. Mrs. J. C. Dowds, the president, assisted Mrs. Elworthy in receiving the guests. Mrs. A. E. James was general convener.

The rainbow theme was carried out in the tea table arrangements and in the drawing-room, where flowers in the rainbow colors were used. A French hand-worked cloth covered the tea table, and mauve and rose dahlias in a cut-glass bowl on a mirror reflector centred the table. Mauve tapers glowed at either end. On the buffet were candies in rainbow shades. Mrs. E. G. Rowbottom, Mrs. W. Webster, Mrs. R. Murdoch and Mrs. F. Winterbottom poured the tea and coffee, and hostesses in the dining-room were Mrs. W. L. Woodhouse and Mrs. H. Goulbourn, who were assisted with the serving by Mesdames J. Johnson, D. Hurdie, William Bayliss, Stanley Moore, P. Partridge, L. Butler and Archie. Mesdames Frank Wilfert, Mess. W. Martin and Pitzer were in charge of the tea arrangements.

Mrs. J. O. Cameron won the prize from the rainbow with the pot of gold at which Mrs. William Hayward presided. A table of home cooking was in charge of Mrs. J. Bernstein, Mrs. Leonard Hobbs and Mrs. F. Norton.

Y.P.S. NEWS

FIRST UNITED

The First United Y.P.U. met recently in the Sunday school hall, the president, Douglas Balfour, in the chair. Margaret Walker had charge of the devotions, during which Iona McDiarmid sang a solo. Miss Marie McDougall introduced the speaker, Mr. Strath, who gave an account of the United Church General Council meeting, which he attended in Winnipeg recently.

"There are dozens of ways of cooking apples," says a chef. One of the best is to stew them and garnish with roast pork.

According to Culbertson

We humans have a bad habit of judging errors of commission much more harshly than those of omission. This holds true of our bridge table philosophy also. When an atrocious bid results in a disastrous penalty, we censure the bidder severely. The player who fails to make a bid that fairly cries for self-expression, however, is just as guilty. The fact that his error is less obvious does not make it less heinous.

Jubilee W.A. Raises Money For Its Work

The sum of $210.07 resulted from the refreshment and candy concession held by the W.A. of the Jubilee Hospital at the Provincial Fair. It was reported at the auxiliary's monthly meeting yesterday by Miss Curry. A vote of thanks was expressed to the members and to all who assisted during the week.

Mrs. F. E. Taylor reported having received $42 in dues. Mrs. Henry Heisterman reported two sewing meetings, at which seventy articles were finished. Mrs. F. V. Longstaff and Mrs. W. A. Luney had visited the ward patients during the month and found everything satisfactory.

Miss Curry and Mrs. Taylor were appointed delegates to the British Columbia Hospital Association convention at the Empress Hotel on October 15, 16 and 17, and all members were asked to try to attend one or more of the sessions. A letter was received from Dr. T. W. Walker, thanking the members for their assistance during Hospital Week.

Mrs. Longstaff and Mrs. E. E. Henderson were appointed the visiting committee, and Mrs. F. A. Lindsay, press convener. A bill of $4 for a special nurse supplied to a needy patient was ordered paid. At Mrs. Mitchell's request, chintz for three rooms on the maternity floor will be purchased, and it was also decided to buy a bolt of chintz for the new wing at a cost of $97.50.

The request of the Junior W.A. to use two of the auxiliary's sewing machines in connection with work for the doll-bazaar, was granted. Arrangements were made for an afternoon and evening bridge party in the Nurses' Home on October 11, with Mrs. J. Phethean and Mrs. G. Tallamy in charge of bridge, and Mrs. G. Sheppard, refreshments. Reservations may be made by telephoning Garden 1897 and Garden 6357.

The first Friday in February was set aside as the date for the annual linen shower.

Mrs. S. H. Okell asked for the auxiliary's support for the Lord Mayor's Refugee Fund in the tag day and also the bridge party to be held at Government House on October 16.

Mrs. Thomas Miller, W.A. president, occupied the chair during the meeting.

CHOIR TEA

The Belmont United Church Choir held a successful tea on Tuesday in the schoolroom of the church, under the convener'ship of Mrs. F. T. Smith, who welcomed the guests. Tea was served by Mesdames J. Evans, W. Johnston and Roberts, and assisting in serving were Misses Kay Knott, Marjorie Fraser and Helen McLeellan. Mrs. T. Hardy and Mrs. W. E. Cook were in charge of the home cooking stall. During the tea hour, solos were sung by Mrs. Weston, Mrs. D. Gossie and Miss Enid Middleton, with Mrs. Cook and Mrs. Harwood playing the accompaniments. The proceeds will go to the choir funds.

STELLAR CAST AT THE ATLAS TODAY

"The Mortal Storm" Stars Margaret Sullivan, James Stewart And Others

The stellar aggregation of Margaret Sullivan, James Stewart, Robert Young and Frank Morgan head the distinguished cast of "The Mortal Storm," film adaptation of the powerful Phyllis Bottome best-seller story of a family caught in the upheaval of a political storm which will be the headline attraction starting today on the Atlas screen.

Planned under the direction of Frank Borzage, responsible for many of the screen's greatest successes, "The Mortal Storm" unfolds the timely and heart-stirring narrative of a family "somewhere in Europe," happy, contented, tolerant, then suddenly awakening to find itself in the throes of a new order of things resulting from political oppression.

OUTDOOR PICTURE SHOWING AT RIO

"Cowboys From Texas" Is Tale of Quarrel Between Cattlemen And Homesteaders

"Cowboys From Texas," starring Bob Livingston, Raymond Hatton and Duncan Renaldo opens today at the Rio Theatre.

The picture deals with the time-honored quarrel between cattlemen and homesteaders, the cattlemen resentful when the "squatters"—as they call them—force them to buy up grazing land which they had previously considered free.

Clay Allison, imported by the Government as "Supervisor of Irrigation," is in reality a deep-dyed villain who seeks to set the cattlemen and the homesteaders against each other. He hopes that their quarrels will result in hardship and poverty to both, and that he and his clique will be able to step in, buy up the homestead land dirt cheap, and profiteer on the misfortunes of both factions.

OAK BAY OFFERS SHIRLEY TEMPLE

"Susannah of the Mounties" Re-counts Story of Founding of Famous Force

The famous story of the Great Northwest in the making, "Susannah of the Mounties," opens today at the Oak Bay Theatre. It is filled with action, conflict, emotion and courage. Starring Shirley Temple in the title role, the film depicts the struggle between the Indians and the Canadian Mounties at the time the Canadian Pacific Railroad was pushing through to the West Coast. Randolph Scott and Margaret Lockwood, star of "The Lady Vanishes," are featured in the 20th Century-Fox film, which was directed by William A. Seiter.

JACK BENNY NOW ON CADET SCREEN

Radio Comedian Heads Cast of Hilarious Film, "Buck Benny Rides Again"

For the first time in Hollywood history, a motion picture will have verbal credits. The picture is "Buck Benny Rides Again," starring Jack Benny, which Paramount will present today at the Cadet Theatre. Don Wilson, Benny's radio announcer who fills the wide open spaces all by himself, will introduce the principal players in lieu of the customary printed list that appears on the screen.

Those who will be announced in this unique fashion include, of course, Jack Benny himself, Ellen Drew, Eddie "Rochester" Anderson, Andy Devine, Phil Harris, Virginia Dale and Lillian Cornell.

CAPITOL Myrna Loy and William Powell, who are co-starring in Van Dyke's new film, "I Love You Again," which is now showing at such good performers that they usually require only one "take" for a scene.

DOMINION Billy Halop, leader of the Dead End Kids, is playing his first romantic role in Universal's "You're Not So Tough," which ends today at the Dominion Theatre. Halop, one of the original Dead Enders, falls in love with Nan Grey in the picture. He is cast as an itinerant worker with Miss Grey as a Dust-bowl refugee.

ADVENTURE STORY IS COMING TO CAPITOL

Alfred Hitchcock, famous director who was responsible for "Rebecca," "The 39 Steps" and "The Lady Vanishes," provides another first-rate thriller in "Foreign Correspondent," which opens at the Capitol Theatre on Saturday.

The story is one of action, excitement and romance, dealing with the adventures of a young New York newspaper reporter who is sent to Europe to dig up facts. He uncovers more than he expected, and reveals an international intrigue. Joel McCrea turns in a grand performance as the newspaper man, and is ably supported by Laraine Day, Herbert Marshall, Robert Benchley and George Sanders.

"Do you think the palmist will really tell my fortune, Jack?" "Yes, if you give her a chance to talk."
